New Agriculture Education Partnership Announced For Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Pennsylvania Gov. Tom Ridge, Agriculture Secretary Samuel E. Hayes Jr. and Education Secretary Eugene W. Hickok announced the creation of The Pennsylvania Agriculture Partnership to increase and enhance agriculture education programs across the Commonwealth.

"We are here today for one mission – to increase awareness about the vital role and importance of agriculture in the lives of all Pennsylvanians," said Secretary Hayes Thursday afternoon during a ceremony opening the Keystone International Livestock Exposition (KILE). "These organizations will provide the foundation for efforts to build that greater awareness."

Hickok said education is the cornerstone to Pennsylvania agriculture's success in the global markets of the next century.

"Whether it is technology in the fields, research in our university's laboratories or 'Ag in the Classroom,' agriculture education is the key element needed to build an industry that can continue to feed the families of the world," Hickok said.

Secretaries Hayes and Hickok were joined by numerous other farm and education organizations.

Dairy Compact Extended Amid Political Maneuvers

Everett Newswanger
Editor

WASHINGTON, DC - The future of U.S. dairy farming, especially dairy farming in the Northeast and South, seemed to hang on political maneuvers in congress this week. Lawmakers made an effort to give disaster relief to farmers while trying to avoid the regional fight over milk-price reforms and the lifting of the trade embargo with Cuba on food.

Meanwhile, U.S. District

They are from left Chris Snyder Kauffman, Annette and Joe Snyder, Joe Snyder Jr., and Anne Brooks, Pennsylvania DHIA technician. The children are Colton and Katy Kauffman. The supreme champion of all breeds at the Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show last week was Blacky Rose of Briarcliffs, the grand champion Jersey for New Direction Jerseys, Elizabethtown. Waverly Farm, Fred Strouse, and Justin Burdette are also part owners of this prize Jersey. Pictured here is Blacky Rose at her coronation with all her friends gathered in the large arena at the Farm Show building in Harrisburg. We have the results of the All-American dairy shows starting on page A22.

Dr. Graham Spanier, president of Penn State University, along with Rep. John Barley, chairman of the Pennsylvania State House Appropriations Committee, visited Lancaster County Thursday to see how Penn State may play a useful role in the area's economic development. During the day, Spanier and Barley visited local farmers, the county commissioners, officials from Penn State Cooperative Extension Service, the Lancaster Chamber of Commerce and Industry, and leaders in the Lancaster school district. More Than 4,200 Entries At 43rd Keystone International HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — More than 4,200 entries are slated for competition in the 43rd Annual Keystone International Livestock Exposition (KILE) that is in progress now through Monday at the Pennsylvania Farm Show Complex.

"The Keystone International is nationally recognized as a showcase for the nation's top beef cattle, swine, sheep and horses," said Secretary Hayes. "As a major livestock producer, Pennsylvania is again proud to serve as host to some of the finest quality livestock in the world," he said.

Noting Governor Ridge's support for KILE, Secretary Hayes said that premiums for this year's Keystone International were increased $10,000 in the 1999-2000 Agriculture Department budget from $167,000 to $177,000.

At opening ceremonies of KILE on Thursday, the Departments of Agriculture and Education and a number of statewide agricultural and educational organizations signed a proclamation committing their efforts to cooperatively promote agricultural education across Pennsylvania.

As reported last week, Charles Itle, assistant Farm Show director was named the Pennsylvania Livestock Association 1999 Hall of Fame Award recipient.

PDA Farm-City Day at KILE

On Friday, the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture (PDA) hosted more than 5,500 children from over 70 schools across the mid-state for PDA's third annual Farm-City Day at the Farm Show Complex.

Secretary Hayes said, "It was a fun day and a learning day for thousands of young students." PDA's theme for the event was 'A Story to be Told... Lessons to be Learned.'

Held in conjunction with KILE, Farm-City Day is an "open house" for Pennsylvania agriculture, featuring an array of more than 50 interactive and informative displays.

Children have an opportunity to experience agriculture first-hand, with things like food safety and milking a cow; planting their own seeds and going through a maze; seeing hundreds of farm animals and watching baby chicks hatch; laughing with costumed characters and enjoying carnival rides; they will learn about insects and how to make livestock feed.

Saturday, was Family Day with attractions including the CATTLE: Compared to last week's closing prices, slaughter steers and heifers closed fully steady. The market was mostly unchanged all week, but mild strength was evident on Thursday. This month's outlook is very good, with October futures on the rise and Western cattle trading at mostly 67.00 and 105.00-106.00. However, in the Northeast, farmer feeders are struggling to decide whether to restock their barns with many being short of feed. In addition, Virginia feeder cattle are reaching dangerously high levels and pushing breakevens well into the 70.00 range. Local Holstein steers ended steady to .50 higher this week. Slaughter cow prices were uneven but closed weak to 2.00 lower, especially on the leaner type cows (over 85 pct lean). Slaughter bulls sold steady to 1.00 lower. Supply included 47 percent slaughter steers, 4 percent slaughter heifers, 38 percent slaughter cows, 3 percent slaughter bulls, with the balance made up of feeder cattle.

SLAUGHTER STEERS: High Choice and Prime 2-4 1180-1470 lbs 66.00-68.50, few up to 70.00. EASTERN REGION FROZEN EGGS, SEPTEMBER 24, 1999. FEDERAL-STATE

Although prices were irregular, mostly price on whole eggs was unchanged to slightly higher. Mostly prices on balance of items were unchanged. Demand was only fair with some caution noted. Offerings were clearing but generally sufficient for trade needs. Liquid and frozen eggs (ingredients included) processed under federal inspection in the Eastern region for the week ending September 18, 1999 were 8 % more than last week, and 4 % less the same week last year. Shell egg supplies were fully adequate to ample from regular suppliers.

ATLANTA, GA.
SEPTEMBER 30, 1999

NORTHEAST BROILER/FRYER PARTS - PART I FEDERAL-STATE

Trucklot buying interest was generally fair. Offerings were mixed but usually adequate and reports of heavy discounting were disappearing. Retail and distributive movement continued quiet, however, dealers hoped sales planned for next week would help stimulate demand. The market tone was about steady and was described by most traders as stabilized.

PRICES PAID PER POUND, ICE PACKED AND CO2 PACKED BROILER/FRYER PARTS, DELIVERED TO FIRST RECEIVERS IN POOL TRUCKLOT AND TRUCKLOT QUANTITIES.

DELMARVA BROILER/FRYER MARKET. FEDERAL-STATE

Movement of ready-to-cook whole birds increased slightly in some instances, but remained generally light and unaggressive, on par with typical late month and mid-week activity. Offerings were readily available although sizes varied some plant to plant. Live supplies were at least moderate; weights varied in a full range of light to heavy. Processing schedules were moderately heavy. Less than trucklot asking prices were 1 cent lower at 48 to 60 cents. Trade sentiment was weak and unsettled. In the parts complex, all items were at least adequate for the light and spotty buying interest. Breast remained in heaviest supply.

NATIONAL EGG MARKET - AT A GLANCE

In the Eastern region, prices were unchanged to lower. Elsewhere, prices were generally unchanged. Trade sentiment was usually barely steady to weak. Retail demand was light to moderate as traders assess further market developments. Movement improved in some locations. However, supplies of all sizes were reported as adequate to ample for the improvement. Breaking stock supplies were at least sufficient from regular sources, and demand for any additional product was generally absent, as breakers continue to work on reducing inventories. Light type hens were fully adequate to ample for current processors' needs.

National Grain Market

St. Joseph, MO
Wed Sep 29, 1999
USDA-MO Dept Ag Market News

DAILY NATIONAL GRAIN SUMMARY

Grain and soybean prices were mixed to day. Wheat mostly 2 to 5 cents lower except Portland 4 cents higher. Corn steady to 2 cents higher. Sorghum steady. Soybeans 1 to 4 cents higher. Spring wheat harvest is all but finished. Most of the winter wheat country received moisture for germination and improving conditions for drilling. Low prices but not much of an indication yet as to planting intentions from winter wheat producers. Every combine and grain truck in the country will be running in the next day or so as rain showers move east and fields dry out. Look for harvest pressure. With nice weather and today's big combines, elevators will fill up rapidly n the next thing we hear will be storing on the ground. Early yield corn estimates ranged from poor to very good, depend- ing on the local. However, with big carryover stocks acres planted and good yields many places, don't look for a short supply. Producers are checking their county posted prices, elevator bids, and LDP's. Soybeans are following closely on the heels of corn. Corn usually dries out for earlier harvesting, but as soon as the beans get ready, producers will switch combine headers and go for the soybeans. Corn will hold up better in the fields than soybeans. Soybean LDP's continue to be rather substantial in most all counties.

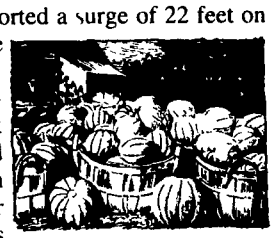
The OLD FARMER'S ALMANAC THIS WEEK WITH

OCTOBER 4-10, 1999

NEW MOON, OCTOBER 9.

PUMPKIN FLOOD

The famous flood that occurred on the Delaware and Susquehanna Rivers 213 years ago (October 5, 1786) took the name Pumpkin Flood when heavy rains helped clear the fields of the autumn's harvest In Pennsylvania, Harrisburg reported a surge of 22 feet on the river One observer of the Pumpkin Flood remembered, "Heavy pumpkins came tumbling downstream like great orange cannonballs and had much the same effect when houses or men stood in their way" Luckily local growers weren't competing in the giant pumpkin contests we read about today, with some squashes growing to over 600 pounds!



Mischief comes by the pound and goes away by the ounce.

– Sojourner Truth

TIP OF THE WEEK

☞ Keep a canvas bag in the car to hold all those items you pick up while running everyday errands.

PUMPKIN SOUP

1 pumpkin (about 2 pounds)
1 cup water
1-1/2 pints boiling milk
3 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon sugar
salt and pepper, to taste
3 slices stale bread, cubed

Seed and pare the pumpkin and cut into small pieces Simmer in a soup kettle with water for 1½ hours Put through a sieve and return to kettle, adding other ingredients Bring to a boil, stirring occasionally, and serve.

Makes 6 servings.

The OLD FARMER'S WEATHER PROVERBS

When the birds and badgers are fat in October, expect a hard winter.

Much rain in October, much wind in December.

In October, dung your field and your land its wealth shall yield.

As October, so next March.

When Prissels decided to expand their dairy operation, they also wanted to milk available tax advantages.

Randy, Brian, Scott and Dennis Prissel, Prissel Valley Farms, Durand, Wisconsin

Prissels chose a "True Tax" lease. In fact, they leased a milking parlor, free stall barns, silos and other farm equipment. Along with fixed and 100% tax deductible lease payments, the leases protected their equity ratios by providing off balance sheet financing.

They chose Telmark for its knowledge of the dairy industry, service and reputation for financing. They also enjoyed working with their Telmark representative who personally knows the ups and downs of farming.

By financing with a lease, terms were kept to a minimum, allowing for the continued growth of the operation. Telmark's quick response allowed the Prissels to move quickly into their dairy expansion.

OPINION

Silo Gas Poses Risk

Harlan Hinkelmann, who farms near Loyal, Wisconsin, is like many farmers who know about the dangers of silo gas.

"Dad always pounded into me to watch out for that stuff," Hinkelmann said. "That is why I took precautions, but they were not good enough."

Last year, Hinkelmann finished filling his silo with second crop haylage. He did not put the silo unloader in place right away. Instead, he put off the chore until the next day when he hoped he'd be less tire, and the head and humidity would be less severe. He ran the blower in the silo for 45 minutes the next morning, thinking that would be long enough, and he climbed up the chute.

"This was nothing that I hadn't done before," he said. Soon, his chest began to hurt. "The gas had built up overnight," he said.

When Hinkelmann climbed to the silo's top, he saw pockets of yellow-brown gas. He watched them as he proceeded to work, thinking he was safe because the pockets didn't move. Unfortunately, his lungs had already been filled with the potentially deadly gas. Unable to breathe, he was taken to Saint Joseph's Hospital's Emergency Department in Marshfield, Wisconsin.

"Farmers exposed to silo gas can get short of breath and become comatose within minutes. Unless a rescuer has a SCBA — self-contained breathing apparatus system — he likely succumbs to the same thing," said John A. Campbell, M.D., a Marshfield Clinic pulmonary medicine specialist and adviser for the National Farm Medicine Center, located on the campus of Marshfield Clinic, Marshfield, Wisconsin. Marshfield Clinic is a system of care, with over 600 physicians providing medical services to more than 330,000 people living in central, northern and western Wisconsin.

"Whenever a farmer or farm worker goes into a confined space, he or she should realize toxic gas may be present and oxygen content may be dangerously low," Campbell said. "It is most important to avoid entering the silo for the first three weeks after filling. Most silo gas injuries occur during this time."

Silo gas is nitrogen dioxide that is produced by fermenting plant material. Nitrogen dioxide is yellowish-brown, smells like laundry bleach, and is heavier than air. Incidents with silo gas are not a recent phenomenon. Sudden deaths associated with working in silos were first described in 1914. The relationship between silo filling and inhalation of nitrogen dioxide was first reported in 1956.

According the the National Farm Medicine Center, silo gas exposure is sometimes confused with Farmer's lung disease, but the two problems are very different. Farmer's lung disease is an allergic reaction to exposure to mold spores associated with various feeds. The reaction to silo gas is immediate, because nitrogen dioxide is an irritant. When it enters the respiratory system, it mixes with the moisture there and forms nitric acid, which causes damage to the airway and lungs. The greatest danger from the gas occurs during the first three weeks after filling the silo. The risk is so great that farmers are urged to stay out of silos for a full 21 days. Even after that time, they should open doors to the level of the silage and run a blower for an hour before entering.

"Whenever farmers or farm employees go into a confined, poorly-ventilated place like a silo and there has been a recent filling, a potential problem exists," Campbell said. "There is also a hazard of oxygen deficiency independent of the gas that might be in the silo."

Treatment for those who survive silo gas exposure varies with the severity, according to Campbell. In the most serious cases, the person may need to have a ventilator to help with breathing, along with fluids and medications to maintain blood pressure. An anti-inflammatory drug is given to prevent lung inflammation, which can lead to permanent injury.

In less severe cases, when a farmer has mild complaints like a sore throat, eye and nose irritations, the anti-inflammatory medication still is prescribed. It also is important to realize the condition may change. "The farmer may not look seriously ill at the moment, but may be very ill soon after the exposure," Campbell said.

The condition can change because of the time it takes for fluid to accumulate in the lungs. That is why it is important to get medical attention immediately when a person believes he or she has been exposed. Immediate care can reduce the amount of lung damage that will occur. It is this long-term damage that is underestimated, according to Nancy Young,

Now Is The Time

By John Schwartz

Lancaster County Agricultural Agent

To Learn From Court Cases

The first time a swine operation has been sentenced under the Clean Water Act occurred June 25, 1999 in Iowa. The fine and fish restitution costs totaled $40,000. In this case prosecutors concluded that negligence and poor maintenance led to the discharge. The discharged resulted from a blocked pipe connecting primary and secondary lagoons.

Blockage of the pipe prevented waste from the primary to the secondary lagoon to occur and contributed to the spill. Slurry flowed through a drainage ditch, along a road ditch and polluted 8.5 miles of the stream. The Iowa Attorney General said the incident rose to a matter of criminal negligence because there were several breaches of good and common sense management practices that could have avoided this very serious pollution discharge. The U.S. attorney stated we should use the strongest legal tools available to hold those who poison our water resources accountable for their action. Regardless of the farming operation, we need to make sure we are not negligence in our management practices.

To Manage Manure Storages

Farmers need to understand their responsibility in managing manure and take the appropriate steps to prevent water pollution. In the recent Iowa court case, prosecutors stated drain plugs were not installed in shallow pits during routine power washing between group of hogs and managers did not instruct employees on proper maintenance of the waste system. Also, the prosecutors said the first stage lagoon was too small to hold all the slurry from the buildings, the crossover pipe connecting the lagoons lacked a screen to filter solid and semi-solid material, lagoons had not been checked for four weeks before the discharge and weeds restricted visibility. Operators failed to improve an eroding berm, making it impossible to maintain adequate freeboard.

The farmer felt the discharge was a result of vandalism. Regardless, the fact remands we need to make sure ouur manure management system I being operated correctly and preventative maintenance is being conducted on a regular basis. Also, we should examine our farm security system to make sure vandals cannot sabotage systems that could cause bad press and pollution.

To Keep Deer Away

The white tail deer has moved from forest lands into farmland and urban settings in search of food. Each year the number of complaints associated with deer feeding on crops, orchards, trees and ornamentals increases, according to Robert Anderson, Lancaster County Extension Agronomy Agent.

WHERE'S THE FIRE?
October 3, 1999

Background Scripture:
Exodus 40:34-38;
Numbers 9:15-23
Devotional Reading:
Psalms 107:109

Several decades ago, when I was between assignments, I came up with an idea that seemed to have come from God in response to prayer. I would go around the country conducting a seminar I had worked out. I think it was something on how God guides us.

First, I scheduled one in Ft. Myers, FL, where a friend handled the newspaper advertising and the hiring of a meeting room. The seminar went well and I was encouraged to try a second one in San Diego, CA where a sister-in-law agreed to handle the same arrangements. On the appointed day I went to the motel where she had secured a large meeting room, arriving an hour in advance so that I get the room ready. Forty-five lonely minutes later I began to wonder if we would be affected by the statewide gas shortage that had cars backed-up for blocks. I waited another 45 minutes, but I realized that I would have this expensive meeting room to myself!

"What happened?" I asked God. Had He not led me to this empty room? Had I mistaken the intention of his message to me? We preachers like to urge others to follow wherever God leads, but sometimes we forget that often it is difficult to know if and where God is leading us. It is not as easy as we make it sound. In the wilderness the Hebrew tribes had a pillar of fire and a cloud to lead them. Well, bully for them! Who can't follow a pillar of fire and a cloud? There are times when I would love a non-too-subtle pillar of fire or a cloud to follow. God, however, doesn't seem to use them much anymore. So how can God lead us?

THERE ARE WAYS

Even without fires and clouds, there are ways, admittedly much less dramatic and confidently, that God can use. First, we may trust our God-given reason. In lots of situations we don't need a fire or cloud if our brains are sufficiently engaged. Many times this way has worked for me—but not always. When I was part of a university dramatic group, there was a fellow member who seemed to do nothing but sit around and 'plink' and 'plunk' (a generous description) on the clubhouse piano. One day, I commented, "Now there is one guy that's never going to amount to anything in the theater!" A decade or so later I was chagrined to learn that he had become a successful movie director with numerous box office hits to his credit. So much for reason!

Another way to seek God's guidance is to use the scriptures in a literal manner. Often the guidance we seek from the Bible is timely and applicable and surely from God—but not always.

Sometimes the Bible seems to sanction practices in conflict with the way of Jesus Christ: polygamy (Deut. 21:15-17; 2 Samuel 5:13-16; 1 Kings 11:1, 3, Gen. 16:3), the execution of people found in adultery or having sexual intercourse with animals (Lev. 20:10, 15, 16), stoning to death a betrothed virgin who is raped in a city if she did not cry for help (Deut. 22:23), forbidding entrance to the assembly to ten generations anyone who is born out of wedlock (Deut. 23:2), the killing of military prisoners (Deut. 20:13), the slaughter of all enemies, including women, children and anything "that breathes" (Deut. 20:16), stoning to death "a stubborn rebellious son," who will not obey his parents (Deut. 21:18-21), or a breaker of this sabbath (Numb. 15:32-36).

If any of us today did any of the above, we would be carted off jail and excommunicated from our churches. Many of us have found over the years that the Bible is not a play-book to be followed literally without discernment.

Sometimes God uses other people to lead us. I was led into the ministry by a pastor who discerned my life's calling long before I did. Yet, there have been other times when I have had to disagree with the advice others gave me.

WHOSE VOICE IS IT?

God also can lead us when we take the time and effort to listen instead of simply talking to him. All too often we do not get the message from God because we don't really listen with patience. But then there was San Diego and the empty hall and I was there because I though God wanted me there. Was it just my own voice I was hearing?

An Amish farmer told his bishop that he had received the call to preach. But the congregation to which he was assigned told the bishop that this man was definitely not a preacher. "Tell me about your call," the bishop said. The man told him he had been plowing in the field. "I saw the clouds arrange themselves into two great letters 'PC.'" The bishop shook his head, "I wish you had told me that earlier: those clouds didn't mean "Preach Christ,' they meant 'plant corn!'"

I'd like to be able to tell you that I have figured out the answers to the questions above—but I have not. But I have learned that we cannot listen to God and jump to conclusions at the same time. Following God takes lots of patience and the 'fire' and 'cloud' may not be as evident as we think.

durvet generic ivermectin Pour-On for cattle is the first generic ivermectin to gain F.D.A. approval. It delivers the same dosage levels and the same quality as the pioneer product. And is every bit as good as any other parasite control product.

The only difference is value.

These same benefits apply to our complete line of beef cattle products:
- Sulfa Sure Boluses
- Pre-Conditioning Gel
- Pen Aqueous and Dura Pen
- Injectable Vitamins
- And many more for all your herd health needs

Pennsylvania Holstein Association Honors Supporters

The Pennsylvania Holstein Association would like to recognize the 39 individuals and businesses that made a financial contribution to support our 1999 PA Holstein Fall Championship Show. Their generous contributions helped to offset the cost of awards presented to each class winner in both the Open and Youth Shows.

Our thanks and appreciation on behalf of the Pennsylvania Holstein Association.

Listed below are the names of individuals and businesses that sponsored an award.

Cornell To Stage Celebration Day, Oct. 5

ITHACA, N.Y. — To show how extension activities help individuals and enterprises to thrive in agricultural ventures and food systems, Cornell Cooperative Extension invites the public to its Celebration Day, Tuesday, October 5.

The free event will be under the big tent on the Cornell campus's Ag Quad between 11:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

There will be exhibits involving corn grinding, fruit tasting, an observation bee hive, food safety, honey tasting, a collegiate 4-H bake sale, composting, sustaining water quality, and how to keep a healthy home.

The event is part of a statewide celebration of Cornell Cooperative Extension and National 4-H Week, Oct. 3-9.

CASE IH

In the dairy business, income over feed cost is the name of the game Pro-Lix liquid feed supplements offer dairymen the means to maximize this value while getting the most from their cow's natural abilities

Pro-Lix liquid feed supplements are concentrated sources of just what ordinary feeds lack protein, energy, vitamins, minerals -- everything animals need for economical milk production and growth

For replacement heifers, Pro-Lix means faster maturity and assurance that they'll get to the milking herd on time If you trust your heifers to forage alone, they might not make it (Bouvatec Is Available)

For lactating cows, the nitrogen content of Pro-Lix means plenty of protein available for milk production and growth

Finally, for dry cows, Pro-Lix not only helps maintain their health during the dry period it prepares them for the next lactation. The Ca:P ratio in Pro-Lix helps control milk fever, while the Vitamin E and selenium aids in clean-up after the birth of a calf

Best of all, Pro-Lix works with all types of pasture grass or forage, as a free-choice supplement, a top-dressing, or a ration mix

The payoff is healthier animals and economical production, all year round!

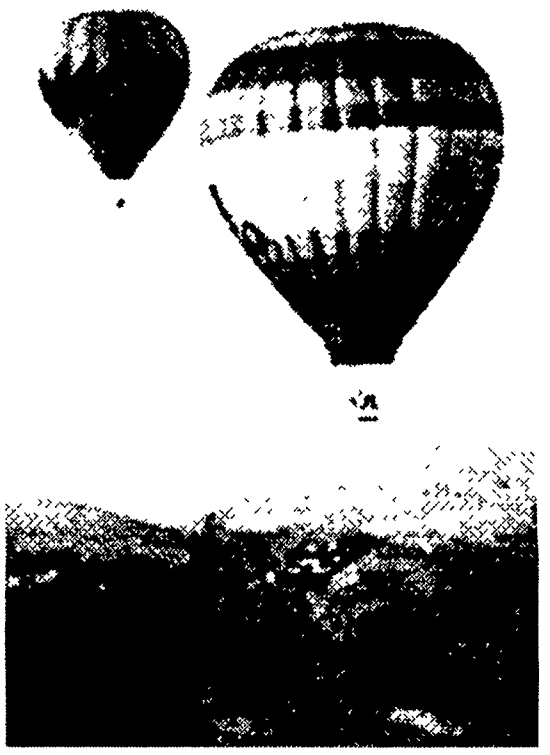
MILK AMERICA'S HEALTH KICK

OCTOBER IS CO-OP MONTH

WHEN IT COMES TO DESCRIBING AMERICA'S CO-OPS, THE SKY'S THE LIMIT



The nation's 47,000 co-coperatives are big and small. They serve 120 million people in all 50 states. And, they're located everywhere - cities, towns, suburbs and throughout rural America.

Providing goods and services as economically and efficiently as possible is their first order of business. And as locally owned and controlled businesses, co-ops are unique because of their commitment not only to the people they serve but also to their communities.

You'll find co-ops for credit and financing, electric and telephone service, insurance, housing, day care, health care, food, farm marketing and supply, news services, florists and much more.

For years co-op have been expanding horizons for the people they serve. In their own words: "It's just good business, and it works for the benefit of our neighbors, our communities and for our country too."

The Milk Cooperatives serving the dairy farmers in Pennsylvania, Maryland, New York and Virginia are proud to be a part of this great cooperative enterprise.

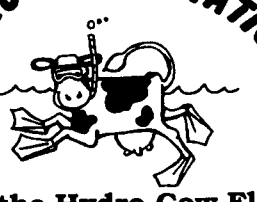
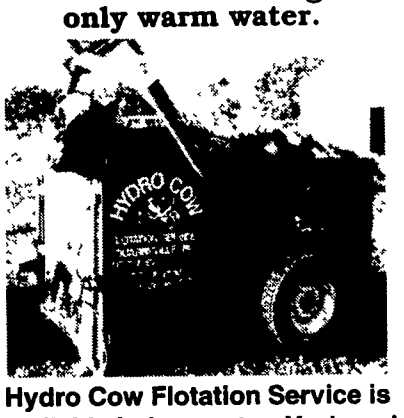
HYDRO COW FLOTATION

CLIP & SAVE THIS AD



With the Hydro Cow Flotation System you can float a down cow back onto its legs harmlessly without using clamps, belts or chains. The Hydro Cow is a natural way to get a cow back on its legs using only warm water.



Hydro Cow Flotation Service is available in Lancaster, York and Chester Counties, and northeastern Maryland

You run a farm, not a test plot.

At Agway, we recognize the complexity and importance of selecting the "best" seed hybrids and varieties each year. There are hundreds to choose from, all with competing claims. Testing each one would be great, but we know that's impossible—you have a farm to run, not a test plot.

That's why Agway does the testing for you on over 100 Northeast and Mid-Atlantic test sites. Only after a hybrid or variety has been repeatedly proven a leader does it earn the right to wear the Agway name. Which means you can count on Agway Farm Seed to give you exceptional performance under the toughest growing conditions. Year after year, field after field.

For more information on how we provide practical, proven seed solutions that help turn your growing challenges into profitable results, contact your nearest Agway, Reading Bone, Milford Fertilizer Company or Andgrow Farm Center.

Todd's Hogs Sweep New Holland Swine Show

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

NEW HOLLAND (Lancaster Co.) — You've heard the saying about the squeaky wheel getting the most grease.

On Tuesday evening at the New Holland Farmers Fair, the squealing hog actually took home the trophy.

For the first time in the Stoltzfus cousin's showmanship history, Todd Stoltzfus and his cousin Zach picked up grand and reserve champions at the fair's swine competition.

Todd, 12, son of Ken and Karen Stoltzfus, Intercourse, watched as cousin Zach showed Todd's 268-pound heavyweight champion to supreme champion of the show.

The winner of the tall, coveted supreme champion trophy only had to wait a few moments afterward to realize that he also picked up reserve champion at the fair.

It was the first grand champion of the New Holland Farmers Fair for Todd. Zach said it was the first time the family swept any show.

Daryl Bomgardner, show judge from Elizabethtown, noted how the heavyweight class, from which the supreme came, is "probably the best class of the day." Bomgardner said both hogs contending for the heavyweight honors were similar in that they were "bigger framed, longer-spined type hogs."

At the time Bomgardner picked the hog for supreme, he noted how much noise the gilt was making, squealing in the ring. The swine judge noted the dimension of the hog.

"If you can have pigs this big and stay this lean and have soundness, it says something for the breed," Bomgardner said.

Todd, in the seventh grade at Locust Grove Mennonite, picked up reserve with the light heavyweight champion. The 256-pound barrow was a "real complete kind of pig, with super feet, lots of muscle — complete," Bomgardner said.

Todd noted that both hogs are fed well and walked daily. The grand champion was nicknamed Mike Lieberthal in honor of the Phillies catcher. The reserve was named after Scott Rolen, Phillies third baseman.

Cory and Kevin Pfautz, Lititz, bred the grand champion, a Hampshire/Yorkshire cross. The gilt was an offspring of last year's Ephrata Fair grand champion, Cory noted. The reserve was out of a previous champion from the Manheim Farm Show a while back.

There were 60 hogs and 24 exhibitors. Following is a list of show placings.

FALL IS THE BEST TIME TO RE-SEED PASTURES

Advantages of Fall Seeding

- ✓ High soil temperature allows quicker germination
- ✓ Pasture is out of production in a slow growing period of the year, unlike in the spring where you sacrifice the prime growing period of the year
- ✓ Very few weeds establish in the fall compared to the spring
- ✓ Most weeds that do establish in the fall will be killed immediately in the winter

In Lancaster County

Ryegrass Can Be Seeded Till Oct. 20
Orchardgrass Oct. 10
Timothy Oct. 15
Cereal Rye Nov. 10

Economics

Recent on-farm trials show that the cost involved with fall renovating a pasture with BG 34 perennial ryegrass is between $65-$100 per acre. The extra spring growth of high quality forage made the milk production per acre more than double compared to the non-renovated pasture! At a milk price of $12 cwt, an extra 900 pounds of milk per acre will pay for the expenses. In this particular trial, the costs were recouped after just two grazings in the first spring. All additional extra milk production in the season and years to follow is profit!

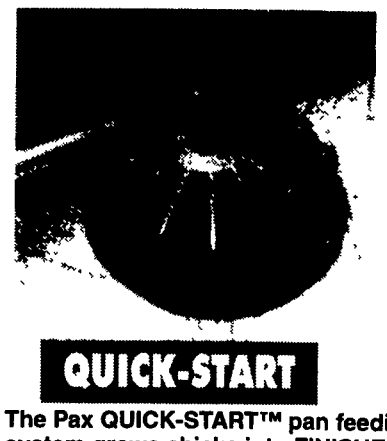
Pax

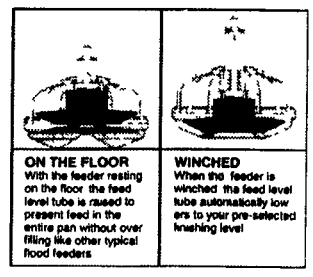
Boosts Your Efficiency and Products with these Innovative Products...



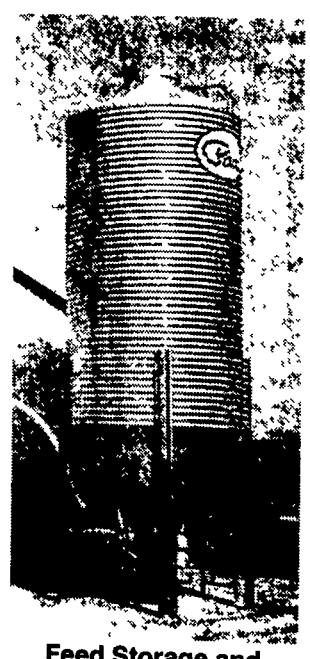
QUICK-START

The Pax QUICK-START™ pan feeding system grows chicks into FINISHED broilers efficiently.

Start chicks with the feeder resting on the floor and the feed pan entirely filled. The Pax QUICK-START™ pan provides easy access to plenty of fresh feed – with no accumulation of stale feed in the drop tube – attracting even the smallest chicks to begin feeding right away.



ON THE FLOOR
With the feeder resting on the floor the feed level tube is raised to present feed in the entire pan without over filling like other typical flood feeders
WINCHED
When the feeder is winched the feed level tube automatically lowers to your pre-selected finishing level



Feed Storage and Delivery Systems

Flexible Auger for Low Volume, Standard Volume, High Volume, as well as High Moisture (up to 25°) and pellet applications.

A new standard from the 3-cylinder leaders

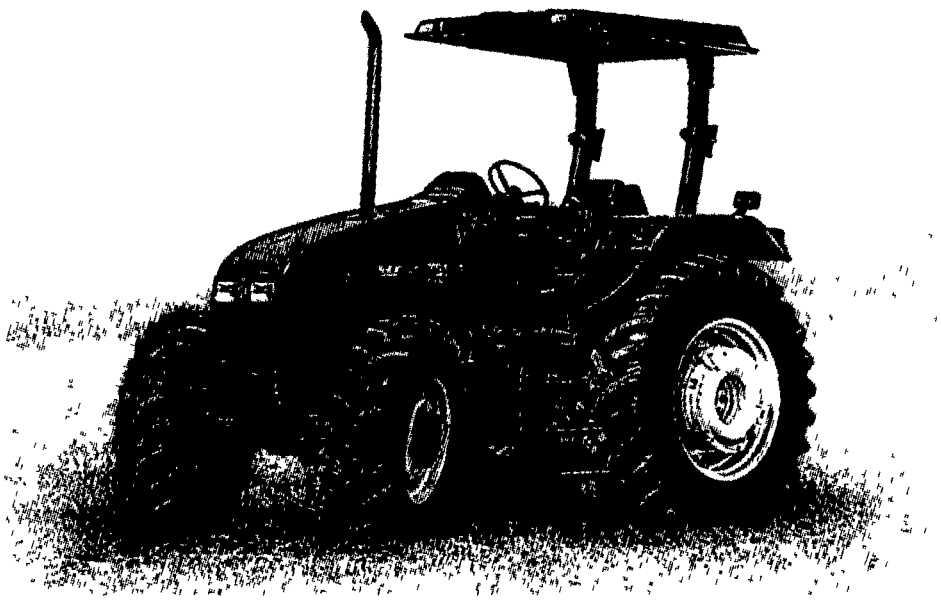
New Holland has raised the standards for 42 to 62 PTO hp tractors with the introduction of TND and TNS models.

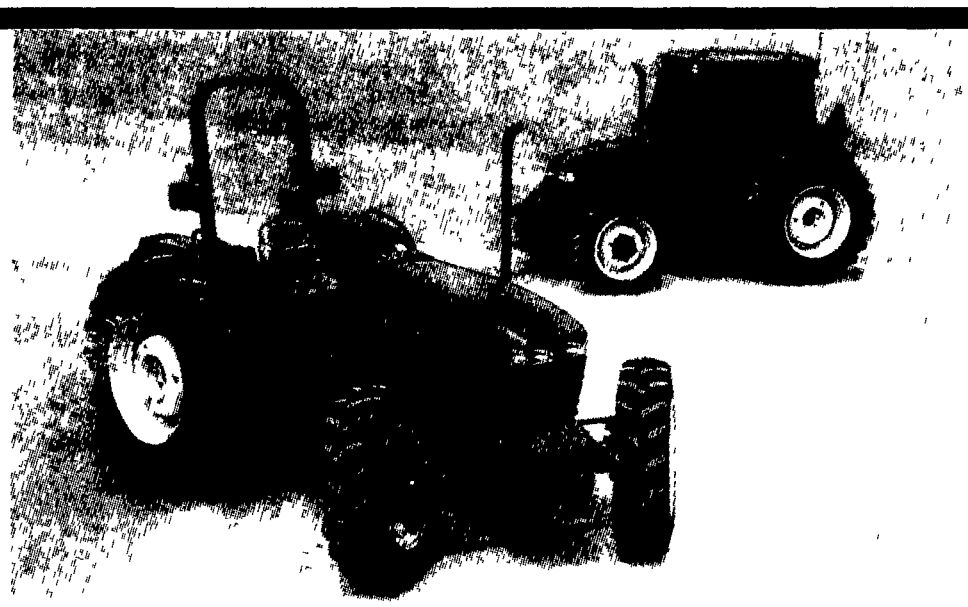
The higher standards include:

- Proven engines: up to 36% torque rise
- Exclusive SuperSteer™; 76 degree turning
- Exclusive Traction Management System
- Iso-mounted, fully enclosed cab with standard A/C, heater, tilt/telescope steering, front/rear washers/wipers, best electronic dash, best visibility, and more
- Clutchless power shuttle fingertip control
- State-of-the-art 16x16 Synchro Command™ transmission with 4 speeds under 1 mph

Let us show you these exciting new tractors.

NEW HOLLAND





Building on a good thing

You might recognize the engines, drivelines and axles on the new New Holland TS tractors. They have excellent reputations based on past performance. Thousands of customers have put these components to hard use and benefited from their performance and durability.

So, New Holland wasn't about to change a good thing. They made other improvements to these 70- to 90-PTO-hp tractors instead – like increasing the horsepower, improving the comfort of the cab, relocating the fuel tank for added convenience, adding a top road speed of 25 mph, upgrading the electrical system and adding outlets and modernizing the styling.

Better see these exciting 70- to 90-PTO-hp TS tractors for yourself. And find out how good design can become even better.

NEW HOLLAND

Compacts made for landscaping

Turn the key of a New Holland compact diesel – select a speed – press the throttle. These tractors have the engine and hydraulic muscle to make short work of raking, grading, hauling stock, and blade work.

- Change directions easily with optional hydrostatic or shuttle-shift transmissions
- Pull through tough spots with available 4WD
- Steer effortlessly through tight areas with Touch-Turn™ steering
- Operate a loader or backhoe with hydraulic power to spare

NEW HOLLAND

New Holland is the smart choice

When it comes to choosing the right tractor, New Holland offers you more, 45 to 62 PTO hp "30 Series" tractors make it easy to get the job done.

- 8x2, 8x8 synchro shuttle or 16x8 DualPower™ transmissions

Expanding Your Farm Operation with Township Approval

As the agriculture industry continues to grow and expand, every farm that wants to increase the size of their operation must gain township approval. Some farmers are facing opposition at the township when requesting an intensive animal production facility. They are commonly turning to attorneys to guide them through the township approval process. Even after they have everything ready for approval, restrictions can be placed on conditional acceptances. Three important factors in developing a plan to expand their operation successfully are: 1.) Communication, 2.) Education, 3.) Planning.

1.) Communication: The lack of communication remains a huge problem in the approval process. It is very important to speak with both township officials and neighbors about all the proper information regarding the new facility, before presenting a plan to the township. Barry Smith, Administrative Assistant in Manor Township had this to say, "Good communication is the biggest key in avoiding a conflict. Manor Township has an 'open-door policy' where we encourage farmers to come in and discuss ideas before submitting proposals. The farmer will have a better idea of what they need to do, and it allows us to get a feel for the needs of the agriculture community and prepare for the future."

When farmers approach their neighbors with plans and assurances of their management practices, this helps defuse many of the concerns from the neighborhood. Farmers need to respect the fact they are not the only resident in the nearby area. Many times neighbors do not find out an intensive animal production facility is planned until someone other than the farmer tells them, along with many horror stories of possible problems, such as odor, flies, etc.

2.) Education: The proper education concerning the new operation of a farm is a very important step. The fact that the new operation is not a "factory farm" but a family farm that has a working partnership with a corporation, is a key point to explain. Another opportunity a farmer has in education is to research the affects of the new operation in regards to odor and nutrient management. "Some of the biggest challenges farmers are facing when going before the zoning board is the misconceptions of these larger production units," said Attorney Steve Kraybill from Blakinger, Byler & Thomas. Kraybill feels that for the most part, townships are looking out for the best interests of the farmer.

Educating yourself about the township process, along with the ordinances that relate to your operation, is another key step in the process. It is advisable to work with an agriculture organization to use as a resource when faced with some hard to answer questions. A few good organizations are PennAg Industry, a Penn State extension office, or your local Chamber of Commerce.

3.) Planning: If a plan is properly prepared from all angles before you submit a request to the township, you can save yourself from unnecessary conditions that may be imposed. By having a conservation plan and a nutrient management plan ready before your township meeting, you will look more prepared to your township officials. Any other state or federal permits needed to build your facility should also be ready prior to your meeting.

Looking at the township planning level, it is important to allow agriculture to continue to grow in areas that are zoned for agriculture. Jere Swarr Chairman, Ralpho Township Supervisors, feels that all new subdivisions and building lots in agriculture zoning should have an Ag-Nuissance Disclaimer on the deed. This will help protect farmers in the future because new residents can be expected to deal with odors, noises and insects related to farming. Swarr feels that farmers in agriculture zoning should be permitted to expand their operations and continue to farm in a manner that enables them to remain profitable if they abide by fair rules and regulations.

One way for the agriculture community to prepare better for future challenges in township planning is to become involved in their local government John Howard, a dairy farmer in West Lampeter Township is also active as a township supervisor Howard said, "It is important for farmers to attend township meetings to offer input on agricultural issues and to understand new ordinances It is also very important for farmers to be active in ag-education so that they are courteous neighbors."

Farming operations in Lancaster County will have to continue to grow in size to remain competitive with the rest of the country. With the influx of new residents in the county, this will create more challenges along with opportunities to educate them on the importance of agriculture in our economy. When working with our local townships to expand your farming operation, keeping communication, education, and planning in mind, is a key for success.

Feel free to send your comments and ideas by email to Brent Landis at the Chamber at blandis@lcci.com or call him at 717-397-3531.

The Best Glass of Milk in the Nation

KAYE SLUSSER
Pennsylvania DHIA

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — The Joe Snyder family of Union County received quite a surprise recently. They had been nominated by PA DHIA and were selected national winners of the 1999 National Dairy Quality Award Program. PA DHIA each year nominates the low somatic cell herd. The Snyders will receive an all expense paid trip to the World Dairy Expo at Madison. They will be presented the award at a banquet and participate in a seminar for the public on milk quality. The October issue of Dairy Today will feature the Snyder farm. The sponsors of the program are Westfalia/Surge, the National Mastitis Council, the National Milk Producers Federation, World Dairy Expo and Dairy Today.

"Quite a nice trip," said both Joe and Annette Snyder who do not venture far from home. They much prefer time off from the farm to be spent with all the family right there on the farm.

The operation consists of 270 acres with 65 milk cows and about the same number of young stock. Joe grew up on the farm and remembers pestering his Dad to join DHIA. "I just wanted to see how the cows were doing." So in 1964, while he was still in high school, they joined Pa. DHIA and in the very beginning were on the Owner-Sampler program.

Son Joe Jr. is now an important part of the operation. Also daughter Chris and husband Don Kauffman, children Katy and Colton are building a new home on the farm. Chris said she was too far from home. They had built a new home 13 miles away but decided to sell and move back to enjoy farm family life. Don works off the farm but Chris is a part of the operation. Another daughter Jennifer, a recent graduate of Penn State, works for Merck near Lansdale.

How do you do it? How can you keep your SCC so low all the time? Joe said the number one reason is because all the family participates. It is like a challenge to see how low we can get. The SCC report page on the DHIA records is the first page everyone looks at. Then after that, the production records are next consulted.

The reason Joe and Annette work so hard for low somatic cell count is money. "The bonus money is most important to us," and then without missing a beat, Joe added, "and if the family can't drink it, I won't put it in the tank." Annette asks "doesn't every farmer need the extra money?" They have been as low as 30,000 SCC a month and their veterinarian was concerned that there would not be enough white cells to fight infection. The present rolling herd average is 23,948 milk, 872 fat and 789 protein on 2x. The production was higher before the heat and drought this summer.

Just leaving the farm as we arrived was the AgriKing consultant Don Sanders, who has been with them 8 years. A feed change was approaching because last year's corn silage was running out. Don Sanders and Joe review the monthly DHIA records and the Milk Urea Nitrogen reports so that they do not over feed or under feed. "Financially it has been a great investment," says Joe.

The milkers are Annette, Joe Jr. and Chris. There are always 2 people milking using 6 units in the comfort stall barn. The milking system is checked by a service rep. every 6 months and all inflations are changed strictly according to manufacturers recommendations. All milkers use latex gloves. Annette buys terry cloth wash cloths and launders them daily. She stated, "I also bleach them to keep them white because the teat dip yellows them." Using individual cloths, each udder is wiped dry and massaged. Each quarter is stripped to look for any abnormality. If anything looks at all questionable the California Mastitis Test paddle is used. Predip solution is then used and the teats are wiped again with a clean washcloth, flipped over and wiped once more. Milkers are applied in less than 1 minute. No machine or hand-stripping is done. Annette says "when a cow is finished milking, she is finished." Cows are post-dipped with a barrier dip that is thick and stays with them.

Annette and Joe Snyder pose with their farm in the background that has been recognized for producing top quality milk.

When they milk, they do nothing else! The ladies laugh that Joe Jr. and Joe are very particular about that point. Joe also says "milking time is not a time for kids running and riding bikes in the barn. I just don't like anything stirring up the cows. If people come into our barn while we are milking and the cows lying down, immediately stand up – well then they are stirring up the cows and I don't like any stress on the cows. A cow milking 120-150 pounds can't deal with mastitis and I don't like to stress my girls in any way." Their Pa DHIA technician Anne Brooks, who nominated the Snyders for the award, feels right at home with the Snyders. Ann says they do everything right and pay attention to details.

What about the farmer who says he never has mastitis? Joe says everyone has it from time to time and anyone who says they never have mastitis isn't looking for it. Their CMT paddle is often used. When anything is found, they freeze a sample and treat immediately. If it does not improve in 1 to 2 milkings, the frozen sample is driven immediately to the vet clinic for culture. All cows are treated when they are dried off and kept in a pen nearby for 2 weeks for close observation. If anything is suspect the udder is milked out and then retreated.

The Snyder farm is truly a family operation. Annette worked off the farm once but did not like it. She wanted to be home with the family. She can't even imagine raising children any other place where there isn't much for them to do. Their responsibilities on the farm teach children the work ethic, explains Annette. Joe found another way for Joe Jr., 25 years old, to take over the farm and make decisions. Several years ago Joe's breeding technician needed some relief help. Joe volunteered to help out and more recently Joe was asked to take a full time position covering Union and Snyder counties for American Breeders Service. "I thought by my stepping out of the barn, our son would learn more without me," says Joe. "I have a good crew her at home," he admits," last year my car phone rang a lot but now our son can handle it well."

"We definitely do not live with the cows," comments Annette. But most of our activities take place here at the farm. All of our families come here several times a year for picnics. A nice large picnic pavilion, swimming pool and volleyball court welcome you to the farmstead as you drive in the lane. The farm abounds in beauty, well-landscaped by Annette's brightly colored flowers everywhere. It shows the pride the entire family takes in the business and their family time together. They are planning a camp area in a forested area of the farm, even more for the family to share together.

While Joe and Annette are in Madison, Joe Jr. and Chris will do all the milking with Chris's husband Don, if needed. At this point they prefer not to go to 3 times a day milking because it would require more than family labor.

Joe goes to the barn early each morning and then leaves for his off farm job to breed cows about 6:30 as the milking is starting. He returns whenever his calls are completed, often early evening. Joe likes his job because he loves to meet people and enjoys seeing the offspring of animals he has bred. As Joe says, it is an all around win-win situation for the entire family.

The herd is Johnes free, they seldom purchase animals. Joe is a strong believer in ova synchronization, 90% of his herd is ova synchronized as well as many of his customers.

So what is the secret of this National Quality Award winner? Joe and Annette continue to emphasize that they do not live with the cows, it is just a lot of little things that all add up. Joe says, "everyone is looking for a miracle cure – there is no one thing." "We do know our cows and how they should milk. If we suspect anything we grab the CMT paddle and treat immediately as needed. We follow our milking procedure routinely and do not skip anything. The cows and equipment are kept clean and well bedded. The lifestyle of this family operation is supremely important to the Snyders and the extra bonus that comes with the premium milk production makes this lifestyle possible.

Pasture Walk Oct. 14

FREDERICK, Md. — The next pasture walk for Frederick County, Maryland, will be Thursday, Oct. 14, from 10 a.m. until noon. John and Julie Mayer will be hosting the event.

The Mayers milk about 65 cows and raise all their own replacements. Permanent pastures consist of orchardgrass, bluegrass, perennial ryegrass, and clovers. Old fescue sod has recently been replaced by sorghum-sudangrass and oats/annual ryegrass to prepare the ground for improved pasture species planting in the fall of 2000.

The purpose of the pasture walk is to allow livestock producers a chance to learn more about the use of rotational grazing as a way to increase agricultural profitability. Most of the time will be spent walking through the pastures discussing plant growth, fencing, watering systems, and animal performance.

The Mayers' Stoney Point Farm is located between Emmitsburg and Taneytown at 12128 Taneytown Pike. From Route 15, go east on Taneytown Pike (Rt. 140) four miles. Turn left onto farm lane. From Taneytown, go west on Taneytown Pike. After crossing the Monocacy River, go 1/4 mile to farm lane on the right. Follow pasture walk signs.

It's Twice In A Row For Sarah At New Holland Lamb Show

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

NEW HOLLAND (Lancaster Co.) — A "mostly Suffolk" crossbred nicknamed "Latrell" mastered the competition in the New Holland Farmers Fair Sheep Show ring Wednesday, picking up supreme for Ephrata High School graduate Sarah Boyd.

Sarah, 18, won grand champion market sale lamb with her 132-pound heavyweight champion. Sarah, daughter of Deb and Kerry Boyd, also won grand champion market pair Wednesday.

For the market lamb, Sarah said she walks it a mile a day in the fields near her house. Sarah won the championship last year, also, during tough competition in New Holland.

Her friend, Jen Zimmerman, helped show the pair.

Sarah said she purchased the market sale lamb from Barb Banbury, Ohio. Sarah plans to show at the Keystone International Livestock Expo (KILE), which began this week, and the state Farm Show.

In breed competition, Jen Zimmerman won supreme champion breeding sheep with her Southdown fall ram lamb named "Chad." Jen, 17, is the daughter of Jay and JoAnn Zimmerman, Reinholds.

The Ephrata High School senior is a veteran show champion at New Holland. She has shown this year at Elizabethtown, Denver, and Ephrata fairs, and is showing at KILE. She plans to attend the North American International Livestock Expo and the Pennsylvania Farm Show.

Jen purchased the Southdown champion from Shaddact Farms, Illinois, she said. She raises her own flock of Horned Dorsets, winning supreme at Ephrata.

Travis Redmond exhibited reserve champion breeding sheep, 15, son of Jean and Henry Redmond, Mohnton. The Lancaster Mennonite High School ninth grader exhibited a Corriedale ram.

Travis said the homebred ram is the first reserve overall he has won in New Holland.

Show judge was Paul Wissinger, a breeder of Polled Dorsets (with about 80-90 head of brood ewes) from Sinking Spring.

There were about 130 sheep at the show and approximately 30 exhibitors.

Following is a list of show placings.

unique Sadie Green Sales Jug Band and "Huggles" the clown with his magic show. Both acts were scheduled to be strolling the Farm Show facility Friday, today and Sunday.

Kessler's "Barnyard" continues to provide a unique experience for children to touch farm animals such as calves, sheep and pigs. Owners will be available to answer questions from youngsters.

Lebanon Valley Farmers/Fulton Bank sponsored the "Agri-Kid Olympics." The Olympics is a fun time for kids as they compete in such farm-related events as sack races, wheelbarrow races, laughing contest, horseshoe pitch and hog-calling contest.

The Kiddie Pedal Power Tractor Pull, sponsored by Evergreen Tractor Sales at Myerstown, is a special event very similar to the big tractor pulls seen at many county fairs.

According to Secretary Hayes, 1999 has been designated as "Year of the Beef" at the 43rd Keystone International, so beef exhibitions will receive special attention as part of the effort to increase public awareness of the beef industry and the high caliber of beef shows held annually at the show.

In shop exhibitions, the new sheep pens, provided for greater comfort at this year's KILE. Dennis Grumbine, show director, said he was "very pleased that the Farm Show Commission was able to purchase these new pens to replace the outdated and inadequate equipment used in the past. These pens will certainly improving the housing of all sheep shows using the Complex."

Another improvement this year was the water line and hydrants installed at the cattle tie-outs.

Dairy Compact Extended

Judge William Sessions III in Montpelier, Vermont, granted an injunction that will extend the life of the Northeast Interstate Dairy Compact that was to expire Friday. In addition, he postponed the implementation of a new federal dairy pricing system to allow time to hear arguments in a lawsuit filed by four northeastern dairy cooperatives seeking to block the system.

Back in August the senate voted to exempt food and medicine from U.S. embargoes to Cuba, but many government officials do not favor this move. Of course, farmers, supported by the American Farm Bureau Federation believe access to the Cuban market is vital to farmers and should go along as an additional help to the farm economy with the proposed aid package.

The mid-west dairymen favor the USDA's new pricing system that reduces the advantage eastern dairy farmers have by being close to the markets. Eastern dairy farmers want to keep alive the New England pricing compact that allows states to get together to set regional prices.

As political opponents bicker over details to best suit their own agendas and dairy cooperatives argue for what they think is best for their bottom line, the farmers and their families, even those who are cooperative members, suffer behind the their farm gates, from the double whammy of small commodity prices and large weather disaster losses. And we all run the risk of losing the nation's greatest strength--the farmer who produces an abundance of high quality food within our own efficient system of agriculture.

Penn State Dairy Center Celebrates 50 Years

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — After a half century on the leading edge of dairy reproductive research, Penn State's Dairy Breeding Research Center will celebrate its 50th anniversary with a rededication and symposium.

On Saturday, Oct. 2, Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences will rename the center the John Almquist Research Center, in recognition of the professor emeritus of dairy physiology who founded the facility. Gary Killian, professor of reproductive physiology in the department of dairy and animal science, says the rededication recognizes Almquist's scientific and educational contributions, which has had impacts beyond the field of dairy science.

"Dr. Almquist pioneered reproductive technology that we take for granted today," Killian says. "These developments made possible the widespread use of semen from genetically superior sires, which nearly doubled the average milk production by dairy herds over the past 50 years. The consumer has benefited indirectly from the increased production efficiency, since dairy products continue to be one of the best food values around. Dr. Almquist's research also has served as a foundation for human assisted-reproduction technology that is now commonly used to treat infertile couples."

Almquist is recognized internationally for his work in artifi-

Silo Gas Poses Risk

manager of the National Farm Medicine Center.

"Every year, there are some fatalities from silo gas inhalation in the United States, and these tragedies make the headlines," Young said. "But for every death, there are many people who survive the exposure and have permanent lung damage that affects their ability to work and exercise. These things are tragic, too, and the deaths and injuries can be prevented by following a few guidelines."

"The silo is not the only place where a farmer is at risk for an encounter with toxic gases," Campbell added. Other confined spaces, such as empty milk trucks and manure pits, also pose dangers.

Hinkelman changed some of his farming practices after the incident. Now, he immediately sets up the silo unloader and stays out of the silo for the recommended three weeks. "It scares you. You learn not to take a chance," he said. Hinkelmann still feels residual effects from last year's incident, particularly on humid days when his chest tightens, but he adds: "It's nothing I can't live with and work with. I am very, very happy to be here yet."

DAYCO SUPER II V-BELTS

Now there's a belt that beats the toughest drive problems.

Many heavy duty industrial machines demand more than conventional wrapped v belts can stand. Their punishing drives make ordinary belts crack under pressure. The result: unnecessary and expensive downtime.

Now there's a solution to the consistent costly problem of replacing or retensioning belts. It's the revolutionary new Super II "v belt from Dayco. The Super II belt was designed specifically for the most brutal applications. And its performance blows the cover off conventional wrapped belts.

In heavy torque, high horse power and extreme shock load comparisons, it's not even a contest. The Super II v-belt is stronger, more flexible, and lasts far longer.

Innovative design & construction provide extra strength and stamina

The secret to the Super II v belt's durability is its unique construction. The central position of the polyester cords in the neoprene rubber core provides greater strength, balance and longer life. Multiple fabric plies top and bottom, enhance flexibility. And Dayco's unique raw edged construction gives it a better grip for controlled slippage.

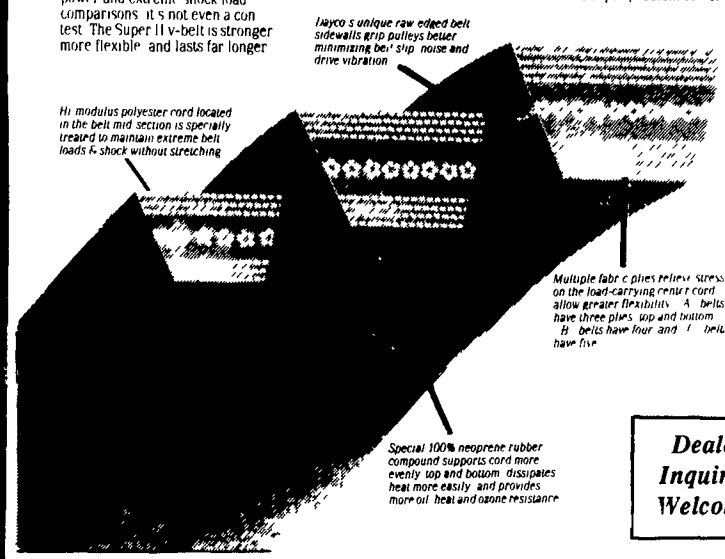
These attributes, combined make the Super II belt superior to conventional wrapped belts in every way.

Test the Super II v belt on your toughest drive

The Super II v belt was field tested for two years on the most severe applications: rock quarry shaker screens, lumber mill tree de barkers, and pipe descalers. In every case, it outperformed conventional wrapped belts by a wide margin. But the only test that really counts is the one you do on your own equipment.

Try the Super II belt on your toughest drive problem. You'll be so amazed by its incredible endurance that you'll want to put it on all your drives. In fact, we're so sure you'll be pleased with the performance of the Super II v belt that in the unlikely event you're not satisfied, we'll refund the original purchase price, or replace it with a conventional wrapped v belt.

The Super II v belt from Dayco. The super problem solver.



Dayco's unique raw edged belt sidewalls grip pulleys better minimizing belt slip, noise and drive vibration
Hi modulus polyester cord located in the belt mid section is specially treated to maintain extreme belt loads & shock without stretching Multiple fabric plies relieve stress on the load-carrying center cord allow greater flexibility. A belts have three plies, top and bottom. B belts have four, and C belts have five.
Special 100% neoprene rubber compound supports cord more evenly, top and bottom, dissipates heat more easily, and provides more oil, heat and ozone resistance

Pennsylvania Rural Electric Association Serves 600,000 Residents

The Pennsylvania Rural Electric Association (PREA), based in Harrisburg, Pa., is the service organization for the non-profit consumer-owned rural electric cooperatives in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Currently, the 13 co-ops in Pennsylvania and one in New Jersey provide electric service to more than 600,000 rural residents, businesses and industries. Pennsylvania's co-ops own and maintain about 12.5 percent of the electric distribution lines in the state, covering nearly one-third of the Commonwealth's land area in 41 counties. These lines represent one of the largest non-governmental investments in rural infrastructure in the state and are an essential component of business and industry.

PREA's 14-member board of directors — one director elected from each of its member cooperatives — conducts the association's business to best serve the consumers members of the co-ops.

PREA works jointly with the Allegheny Electric Cooperative Inc., a generation and transmission cooperative that provides wholesale power to the 14 co-ops.

HISTORY

As late as the 1930s, only six out of every 100 rural Pennsylvanians knew the miracle of electric light bulb in their homes, The reason – establishing power companies in Pennsylvania and New Jersey had decided that running electric lines into rural areas would not make them a profit.

As a rule, power companies charged farmers $2,000 to $3,000 per mile to build lines to their homes and then charged electric rates higher than those in the cities. Since the average gross income of a farm family of the period was just $1,800 per year, most couldn't afford electric service.

In many areas, power was not available at any cost. for a time it seemed profit needs — greed — of stockholder-controlled private power companies would condemn most of Pennsylvania's and New Jersey's rural population to live forever with kerosene lamps and hand pumps.

But rural leader and a handful of politicians were not ready to accept the status quo. They began working to demonstrate that electric power could be provided to rural areas at a reasonable cost and began developing a business structure to make that delivery possible.

In 1931, New York Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt established the Power Authority of the State of New York (PASNY) to develop water power on the St. Lawrence River, PASNY produced the first study on the actual costs of electric distribution and helped demonstrate the practicality of providing electricity to rural areas.

In 1935, armed with studies showing both the economic feasibility and the benefits of providing electricity to rural areas, then-President Roosevelt signed an executive order forming the Rural Electrification Administration (REA).

The REA program was initially intended as an inducement to the private power companies to begin serving rural areas. But even with the incentives provided by 2 percent REA loans, the private power suppliers showed little interest in building the necessary lines. By the end of 1935, it was clear that the private power companies weren't serious about acting on the government's offer to electrify the countryside. Most of the loan applications and inquiries REA received came from farm co-ops. REA now realized that farmers and their rural neighbors were willing to take electrification into their own hands on a cooperative basis.

Farmers had long experience with cooperatives. In fact, the co-op was the business structural rural people adopted when confronted with a task too large for any family to handle itself.

It was natural then that rural leaders chose to form another kind of co-op to provide themselves and their neighbors with electricity. Since extending central station electric service required very specialized engineering skills, many in Congress were convinced rural electrification would never be accomplished without REA receiving regular appropriations and full status. So in 1936, one year and 20 days after REA had been created, Congress passed legislation making REA a permanent government agency. In 1939, REA became part of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

On October 20, 1994, a sweeping reorganization of the Ag Department took place. As a result, after 59 years of existence, REA was officially disbanded. Most REA functions were transferred to a new Rural Utilities Service (RUS).

But the mission of rural electrification continues. Today, about 1,000 electric cooperatives across the United States provide power to more than 25 million consumer members. Each co-op is a locally owned, taxpaying business incorporated under the laws of its individual state.

Rural electric cooperatives have been delivering low-cost electric service to Pennsylvania and New Jersey rural residents since 1936, when the Steamburg Electric Cooperative Association (later consolidated into Northwestern Rural Electric Cooperative) was established in Erie and Crawford counties.

The 14 rural electric cooperatives that today comprise PREA were organized between 1936 and 1941. By the time the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941, all of them had gone through the pangs of becoming organized, of getting their first loans, of making arrangements for power supply at least on a short-term basis and had begun construction of lines to reach their unserved neighbors.

With the outbreak of WWII, the co-ops realized they need a statewide organization to speak for them as one voice on legislative issues. The co-ops created PREA in February 1942.

25 products to determine if they reduce feeding by deer. In this study they found Deer-Off was the best performing product. Deer-Off is registered with EPA as a deer repellent for use on vegetable crops and fruit trees and is not required to include a warning or danger signal on the label.

According to the manufacturer, the product offers duel protection because it leaves both an odor and taste that deer, rabbits and squirrels find offensive. Made from biodegradable food products, they say the product contains no harmful chemicals and is safe for people, animals and the environment.

A single application will last up to three months without changing the color or texture of the plants and does not leave a filmy residue. In the four year study conducted at Rutgers, it kept deer away from vegetation up to three times longer than any other product they tested. One gallon applied as a perimeter treatment protected for two to three months at a cost of $100, according to the study.

Penn State Dairy Center Celebrates 50 Years

cial insemination and reproductive physiology of cattle. He authored more than 165 research papers in scientific and professional journals and proceedings, with much of his early work in the 1940s dealing with semen preservation and extending the usefulness of genetically superior sires through insemination. He was the first person to demonstrate the value of adding penicillin and streptomycin to diluted bull semen to control the bacterial growth and increase fertility.

The Dairy Breeding Research Center, dedicated in 1949, was the site of fundamental research contributions to the field of reproductive biology, artificial insemination and reproductive technology development for cattle. Many of the procedures and techniques currently used in the industry were developed by Penn State faculty.

On Friday, Oct. 1, an open house is planned so visitors can tour the facility and learn about current research. Memorabilia from the center's 50 years also will be on display, and the newly renovated bull barn will be showcased. In the evening, a buffet dinner is planned for current and former employees and students who have been associated with the center.

At 10 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 2, a formal ceremony will feature several speakers, including Pennsylvania Secretary of Agriculture Sam Hayes, Jr. Penn State President Graham Spanier, College of Agricultural Sciences Dean Robert Steele, Penn State Trustee Dave Morrow, former students, industry representatives, and Amlquist. Following a luncheon, a symposium is planned highlighting the scientific accomplishments of past researchers. Presenters will include:

• O.J. Ginther, professor of animal health and biomedical sciences in the University of Wisconsin's School of Veterinary Medicine, on "Ultrasound Technology and Solving the Mystery of Follicle Selection";

• R.G. Saacke, professor of dairy sciences at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, on "The Bovine Egg/Embryo as a Biomarker for Sperm Quality";

• G.E. Seidel, Jr., professor of reproductive physiology in the department of physiology in the College of Veterinary Medicine at Colorado State University, on "Sexing Bovine Sperm: State of the Art";

• Jenneke van Wagtendonk, head of Research and Development at Holland Genetics, on "The Role of Cloning in the Cattle Industry";

• R.P. Amann, head and professor emeritus in the department of physiology of Colorado State University and vice president of BioPore, Inc., on "The Future of AI in Animal Agriculture";

New Agriculture Education Partnership

Guy Donaldson, president of Pennsylvania Bureau said, "We are pleased to see agriculture education getting the attention it deserves. Strong agricultural education programs are essential to today's youth – the future of Pennsylvania agriculture. The partnership that we signed here today is another positive step in ensuring that agriculture remains Pennsylvania's No. 1 industry."

Thirteen agriculture organizations signed a "Proclamation of Collaboration," officially creating the innovative partnership. The action group will work to create an efficient and effective system for providing kindergarten through adult agriculture education that will include components of agriculture awareness and workforce development. The alliance also will serve as a networking mechanism for organizations to collaborate and cooperate for agriculture education programs.

The Ridge Administration is dedicated to improving the quality of agriculture education in Pennsylvania's schools. In the 1999-2000 budget, Gov. Ridge earmarked $51.5 million for vocational-technical education programs such as agriculture education, an increased of $1.6 million, or 3.3 percent.

More than 11,000 students are enrolled in agriculture education programs across Pennsylvania.

Members of the new partnership include: Pennsylvania Agriculture Awareness Foundation; Pennsylvania Alliance for Environmental Education; Pennsylvania Association of Agriculture Educators; Pennsylvania Association of Conservation Districts Inc.; Pennsylvania Farm Bureau; Pennsylvania Farm Link; Pennsylvania Farmers Union; Pennsylvania FFA Association; Pennsylvania FFA Foundation; Pennsylvania State Grange; Pennsylvania Young Farmers Association; Pennsylvania 4-H; and PennAg Industries.

Agriculture is Pennsylvania's No. 1 industry, employing more than 800,000 people and contributing more than $44 billion each year to the Commonwealth's economy.

Our current weather pattern favors dry weather with above-normal temperatures due to high pressure building in from the Ohio Valley. Sunshine will be featured over the next few days. The relative humidity will average 40 percent during the afternoons, resulting in good drying conditions. There might be a couple of showers by the first part of next week as low pressure approaches from the west.

Pioneer Machinery 'Instrumental' To Wild West Show

LINDA WILLIAMS
Bedford Co. Correspondent

BEDFORD — Horses pulled plows and engines putt-putted as the sheriff rounded up some bad hombres and a few joined in, throwing cow chips.

Contests were held for attendees, including horseshoe throwing, roping, and tossing cow chips. Indians told stories, cowboys sang, and those who wanted to show their skills pitched horseshoes.

You could learn how to hew a log or shoe a horse. Or you could have your photo taken with a real live outlaw.

It was all part of the Pioneer and Wild West Show at Old Bedford Village on Labor Day weekend.

You could learn how to hew a log or shoe a horse. Or you could have your photo taken with a real live outlaw. Children were invited to participate in a tractor pull or pan for gold in the Village stream.

History came to life as it does every day at Old Bedford Village, but with a lot more clout.

There was a display of antique machinery and demonstrations of threshing the way it used to be.

There were pony rides, horse teams plowing, and corn boiling.

History came to life as it does everyday at Old Bedford Village, but with a lot more clout.

Chuck Wild and his son Glenn enjoyed the antique John Deere tractors at the Old Bedford Village.

A handsome team of plow-pulling draft horses were a feature of the recent Pioneer and Wild West Show.

It was the first of what will probably become an annual event.

It was the first of what will probably become an annual event.

There are many October events at Old Bedford Village.

Old Bedford Village closes on Oct. 31 but will reopen December 3, 4, 5, 10, 11, and 12 for an old-fashioned Christmas event.

...cowboys sang, and those who wanted to show their skills pitched horseshoes.

Murder Mystery evenings will be Oct. 2 and 9. An Octoberfest with German food and activities is scheduled Oct. 16-17 along with Kinderfest for the kids.

On Oct. 23-24, a pumpkin festival will include a pie eating contest, scarecrow making, and other autumn activities.

A Haunted Village will highlight Halloween Oct. 23 and 30.

To contact the village for an update on these events, call (814) 623-1156 or (800) 238-4347. The village is open from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. daily through October.

Family Prepares For School's Benefit Auction

Fall's True Colors Alive At Stoltzfus Family Farm

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

ELVERSON (Chester Co.) — With 30 acres of pumpkins to harvest and horse hay to be sold, October is a hectic month for Craig and Linda Stoltzfus. But it's not too busy for the family to help out a good cause Oct. 15-16.

"Friends, family, and school are a priority in our lives. And the benefit auction includes a bit of all three," said Craig.

Craig and his wife are in charge of the chicken barbecue, an integral part of the annual benefit auction for Conestoga Christian School, Morgantown.

The couple's three children — Ryan, 16; Marla, 13; and Quintin, 10 — attend the 300-student school.

The 160-acre Chester County farm has been in the Stoltzfus family for three generations, but Craig himself did not grow up on a farm. Craig's dad was a pastor, and the family served stints in Virginia, Indiana, Florida, and eventually Pennsylvania. During these years, Craig often vacationed on the farm first owned by his grandfather and later his uncle.

"Craig definitely has farming in his blood," Linda said. "He loves it."

As a teen-ager, Craig started working for his uncle. When Craig took over the farm, he did not pursue dairying.

"To continue in dairy, we would have needed to do extensive renovations," Craig said.

"I stumbled onto the hay business," Craig said. He rents an additional 200 acres to bale hay for the horse market.

Craig said, "Actually, I give the Lord credit for leading us. We always pray for wisdom. I believe that the Lord controls and directs the affairs of men more than we realize."

For the first 14 years of Craig and Linda's marriage, they also raised 40 acres of strawberries. But they have phased out the strawberries in favor of concentrating on growing horse hay and pumpkins.

Horse hay requires special attention. It cannot contain dust or mold, which causes horses to become sick. That means hay must be completely dried before baling.

Craig started off small in the hay business. Mostly through word-of-mouth, the business has grown and he now employs five others to help harvest and deliver 12 trailer loads of hay weekly in addition to direct sales to customers who come to pick up hay. Son Ryan takes a real interest in farming and works there full time.

This year's drought did not seriously hurt their hay yields. Although they lost one cutting, Craig said that people bought more hay this year than other years because they didn't have grass for the horses to graze, and also many people were afraid hay prices would continue to escalate in price.

Last year Craig purchased a self-propelled stack wagon that increased capacity with less labor. Craig and his son can handle 2,000 bales in an afternoon if everything goes well. The stack wagon picks up bales and stacks in a barn. The bales are neatly and compactly stacked 160 bales high in eight stacks allowing 12,000 bales to be stored in one barn.

Four barns are used for hay storage. Since Craig took over the farm, he has added a silo, three sheds for equipment, and two hay storage barns.

During haymaking, the Stoltzfus family runs two balers and a round baler on their fields. They do not have time for custom work.

Because of the drought, the 75 acres they had in corn did poorly, but they irrigated the 30 acres of pumpkins, which looks promising.

"In the pumpkin business, I never count that money until it's in the bank," Craig said of the volatile market, famous for farmers undercutting prices to get rid of surplus.

He basically wholesales to nurseries in the Philadephia and Downingtown areas.

When it comes to pumpkins, you need good quality and a market that moves them. The market must be established before pumpkins are planted. Pumpkin markets are never a guarantee from year to year because of intense competition.

"Some years the market is flooded and you can't give them away; other years there are not enough," Craig said.

Their pumpkins have good, strong, dark stems—a must for marketing. The family started out with two acres of pumpkins, and each year have gradually increased it. Word has spread.

Farming techniques include using more no-till, which is cleaner, and nicer for driving through fields, but weed control is a challenge.

Pumpkins need consistent spraying to control insects and fungus. And pumpkins need to be harvested by hand—no easy chore when you're growing 40 acres.

Fall's True Colors

Craig and Linda Stoltzfus grow horse hay on their 160-acre farm and rent 200 acres.

Migrant workers from nearby mushroom plants often help on a Saturday. They are happy for the extra money on their day off from the plant.

"Mexicans are good workers," Craig said. "It's hard to find dependable labor otherwise.

"More and more we are replacing manual labor with mechanical things to do the work for us," Craig said. "However, we can't eliminate manual labor completely."

He also has automated feeding for approximately 100 head of Holstein steers. Of the beef sideline, Craig said, "Some years we make a couple of dollars; other years, it's a bit harder."

Although Craig said that he is not one to go into debt, he believes if farmers can afford it, it is better to buy new equipment than deal with constant breakdowns.

After Oct. 31, you can't sell one more pumpkin, so Craig slices the pumpkins with a disk and turns the cattle into the field to graze.

"It's a like a delicacy for the cattle. They love it. It's fun to watch them because they act so excited," Linda said.

The children are active in 4-H. Other years, they raised 4-H hogs, but this year, the family took several four-day excursion trips, so they decided to forego raising hogs.

The family has four horses and Craig and his sons are active in a trail ride club. In these, about 20-30 members ride the trails and pitch a tent for overnight trips. The club also holds small rodeos for family fun.

The family also enjoys biking and skiing together.

"It's easier for us to get away from the farm during the winter, so that's why we started going on ski vacations," Linda said.

The family went skiing in New York last year, and this winter plan to go to Vermont.

Linda, who grew up in Indiana, and then came to Lancaster as a registered nurse, said that she grew up saying there were two things she did not want to do: marry a hog farmer and live in a trailer.

She did both the first year they were married. They no longer raise hogs and they now live in the farmhouse that has been beautifully remodeled.

The circa-1790 farmhouse's wooden floors have been refinished to a smooth sheen, and replacement windows have been added, but the deep windowsills retained. Walls are freshly painted, papered, and the rooms tastefully decorated. A reading room has a fireplace insert placed in the original walk-in fireplace. A large family room addition was built on recently. A screened-in porch overlooks the hay and pumpkin fields.

"I like to sit here and watch the corn grow while I eat," Craig said.

Linda gave up her nursing career when their first child was born, and she hasn't missed it.

"I love living on the farm and think it's the best place to raise a family," she said.

Their farm is the perfect place for children, with a large pond, which is kept algae-free for swimming and diving. A gazebo, large trampoline, tree house, and other kid-interest amenities are near the pond. The house is shaded with large trees, lots of flowers, and landscaping.

When they had the strawberry business, Linda was in charge of sales and enjoyed the aspect of meeting customers. Now people often come to the door for hay and pumpkins, and she enjoys that aspect of the business.

Craig had two close calls with farm accidents. Several years ago, he had his hand crushed when an iron beam fell on him while building a pole barn.

"We had an outpouring of help from the community and church. The accident happened in the spring. There were six or seven men helping here everyday for the first six weeks after the accident," Linda said.

Another year, Craig was using the silo unloader when it slipped off the track and pinned him against the wall. Fortunately an employee was standing right by the switch and saw it happened.

"He flipped the switch immediately. A second later, it would have sliced by chest in half," Craig said.

Craig doesn't see these close calls as fate. He said, "We pray daily for wisdom and protection, and are grateful to God."

Craig started off small in the hay business. Mostly through word-of-mouth, the business has grown and he now employs five others to help harvest and deliver trailer loads of hay weekly in addition to direct sales to customers who come to pick it up.

"We are thankful for Christian education, and that the school is growing," Craig said.

"It's worth donating our time. It's the least we can do."

Craig and Linda examine some of the pumpkins gathered from the 30 acres raised on their Elverson farm.

Craig was a member of the National Hay Association, a school board member formerly, and now is in charge of maintenance at the school.

Although a professional person is hired to do the chicken barbecuing, the Stoltzfuses are in charge of making it happen. Linda spends a lot of time on the phone contacting people to help with selling, packaging, preparing fresh fruit salad, and applesauce, clean-up, etc.

On the day of the sale, the Stoltzfus family works from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. On Friday, the barbecue chicken halves and dinners are sold from 11 a.m. - 7 p.m. Dinners include fresh fruit salad, chips, choice of applesauce or coleslaw, roll and butter, and whoopie pie.

When the Stoltzfuses first began helping with the barbecue, about 500 halves were sold. This year, they will prepare 2,400 chicken halves.

Auction To Benefit Conestoga Christian School

MORGANTOWN (Berks Co.) — Conestoga Christian School will hold its 26th annual Benefit Auction October 15 and 16, at the school in Morgantown. The annual event features a chicken barbecue and craft sale on Friday, October 15, and the auction on Saturday.

Friday's activities feature the chicken barbecue from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. with two drive-through pickup areas. The drive-thru will be open from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. for anyone going by the school on Route 23, just west of Morgantown. Complete chicken barbecue dinners and chicken halves will be available for pick-up or may be eaten in the gymnasium while visitors preview Saturday's auction items.

For those interested in doing some early Christmas shopping, the handmade craft sale is open from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the school's gymnasium. The craft area features a wide range of country crafts and collectibles.

At 8 a.m. Saturday, the craft area reopens and at 9:30 a.m. the main event begins with the opening bids at the auction.

Hundreds of items donated by local businesses, friends of the school and school patrons, provide another opportunity for buyers to bid on unique items such as artwork, quilts, Winross trucks, handmade wooden items, and gift baskets made by each class.

A silent gift certificate auction featuring a variety of services from local businesses gets under way at 9 a.m. on Saturday and lasts until 1 p.m. At 11 a.m., the class gift baskets go on sale featuring the creativity and contributions from each of the kindergarten through 12 classes.

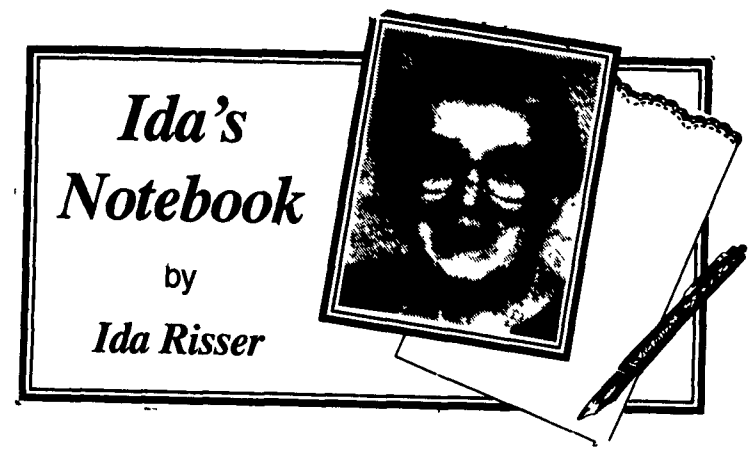
Artwork from artists dan Christ and Ken Hunter, Gerald Putt, Susie Riehl, Todd Ream, and many others will be featured at noon. A 1982 Dodge 7-Passenger Conversion Van with current state inspection will be sold at 12:30 p.m. At 1 p.m. the quilts, wall hangings, and other hand-sewn items are auctioned. Quilt patterns include Appliqued Country Love, Log Cabin, Broken Star, and others.

Specialty items such as Longaberger® baskets, a 4-drawer bureau, beef, pork, home-cooked meals and much more are auctioned off throughout the day.

Of course, no country auction would be complete without the food. The food tent menu offers favorites like apple dumplings, pies, baked goods, a pork roast, soups, and pizza.

All proceeds from the two-day sale benefit Conestoga Christian School. Conestoga offers a fully-accredited K through 12 program. Many of the school's 299 students are actively involved in the benefit auction which helps to fund the school's annual operating budget.

Bidder registration begins at 8 a.m. on Saturday. For more information, call the school at (610) 286-0353.



It is surprising to see what rain has done for plants around our house. Even though it is October, the roses have sprung to life and I can gather a bouquet every few days. The dwarf dahlias are full of buds but I fear that most of them will not get a chance to bloom.

The other day I picked lima beans with the help of the three grandchildren. They like to eat the raw beans but I prefer to have mine cooked. They also like to hunt the last of the very sweet Concord grapes too as they are growing and are always hungry. They don't let me go away without handing out a little candy.

The other week I picked up a few buckets of black walnuts. My husband likes the Stabler walnut because it is easy to crack and he can remove the kernel in one piece. He made a contraption with a motor that will hull the walnuts for him. Then he dries them on a screen after washing them.

We recently attended the 62nd anniversary of an organization that was started in 1937 to entertain and teach rural youth. Hence, the name "Rural Youth of Lancaster County." The group was made up of smaller groups with various interests. There were speakers at monthly meetings and trips were planned to points of interest.

An orchestra was formed, plays produced, seed orders taken, and parties planned where square dancing and round dances were the center of interest.

It was a place for young rural youth to meet for wholesome recreation. And, meet they did, as many, many marriages were made as a result — including my own.

Rice — The Amazing Grain

Rice has a multipurpose use in a lot of favorite dishes. The seed comes from an annual cereal grass cultivated in warm climates.

HOW TO PREPARE BROWN RICE

When cooking brown rice, always follow package directions. When directions are not available, use this easy method·

1 cup uncooked brown rice

2 to 2-1/2 cups liquid (water, broth, juice)

1 teaspoon butter or margarine (optional)

1 teaspoon salt (optional)

Combine ingredients in 2- or 3-quart saucepan. Bring to a boil; stir once or twice. Reduce heat, cover, and simmer 45 to 50 minutes, or until rice is tender and liquid is absorbed. Fluff with fork. Yield: 3 to 4 cups.

Microvave Oven Instructions: Combine all ingredients in deep 2- to 3-quart mircoproof baking dish. Dover and cook on HIGH 5 minutes or until boiling. Reduce setting to MEDIUM (50% power) and cook 30 minutes. Fluff with fork.

TUNA RICE SALAD

3 cups cooked rice

1 8-1/2 ounce can green peas, drained

1 - 6-3/4 once can tuna, packed in water, drained and flaked

3/4 cup chopped celery

1/4 cup sliced green onions

1/4 cup lemon juice

2 tablespoons vegetable oil

1/4 teaspooon hot pepper sauce

Combine rice and peas in large bowl, toss lightly. Add tuna, celery and onions. Combine lemon juice, oil and pepper sauce in small jar with lid. Pour over rice mixture; toss lightly. Cover and chill 30 minutes.

Makes 6 servings

MEAL-IN-ONE STIR-FRY

1 small onion, chopped

2 tablespoons vegetable oil

2 5 ounce cans chunk chicken, drained and flaked

1 4-ounce can sliced mushrooms, drained

1 8-1/2 ounce can green peas, drained

3 cups cooked rice

1 2-ounce jar diced pimentos (optional)

1 teaspoon ground black pepper

Cook onion in oil in large skillet until transparent. Add chicken, mushrooms, peas, rice, pimentos and pepper; stir well and heat thoroughly.

Makes 6 servings.

PUMPKIN WALNUT LOAF

Makes 4 servings

In season, use fresh, small pumpkins;* out of season use canned

1 cup minced onion

1/2 cup mixed green bell pepper

1 cup finely diced fresh pumpkin

1/4 cup chicken broth

1 cup cooked white or brown long-grain rice

6 tablespoons breadcrumbs

2 ounces Ca. walnuts, finely chopped (about 28 halves)

1 egg, beaten

2 tablespoons minced parlsey

3/4 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon dried leaf sage

1/4 teaspoon pepper

3/4 ounce grated Parmesan cheese

1 1/2 cups stewed tomatoes.

1. Preheat oven to 375° F. Spray a large non-stick skillet with nonstick cooking spray. Cook onion and bell pepper over medium heat, stirring often, until onion is pale gold, about 5 minutes.

2. Add pumpkin and broth, cover and cook over low heat until pumpkin is soft, about 7 minutes.

3 Remove from heat; add rice, breadcrumbs, walnuts, egg, parsley, salt, sage and pepper; mix well.

4. Spray a 4-cup baking dish with nonstick cooking spray. Pack rice mixture into dish; sprinkle with Parmesan and bake 25 minutes. Run under broiler for 1-2 minutes until lightly browned on top.

5. Meanwhile, in a small saucepan, bring the stewed tomatoes to a boil over high heat, stirring frequently. Cook, uncovered, until reduced to 1 cup. Serve as is or purée in blender or food processor. Serve loaf with sauce on the side.

* Note: For best flavor, use small sugar pumpkins (about 2-3 pounds). Cut in half, remove seeds and string with a large spoon, peel and dice. Or you can bake the pumpkin whole in a roasting pan at 375° F for about 1 hour, or until it can be easily pierced with a knife. Allow to cool; remove seeds and string, and scoop out flesh with a spoon. If you use pre-baked or canned pumpkin in the recipe, you may omit step 2, and simply add the broth and the other ingredients.

CHICKEN-RICE ROLL UPS

2 cups finely chopped cooked chicken

2 cups cooked rice

1 can (8 ounces) water chestnuts, drained and finely chopped

1 cup (4 ounces) grated Cheddar cheese

1 cup chopped celery

2/3 cup sour cream

1/2 cup finely chopped onion

1 can (4 ounces) chopped green chilies

2 teaspoons chili powder

1 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon hot pepper sauce

66 wonton skins

4 cups vegetable oil for frying

Picante sauce.

Combine chicken, rice, water chestnuts, cheese, celery, sour cream, onion, chilies, chili powder, salt and pepper sauce in large bowl. Place 1 tablespoon rice mixture in center of each wonton skin. Fold bottom corner up over filling, then fold in side corners over filling. Brush edges with water and roll up to seal. Heat oil in deep fryer or heavy saucepan to 375° F; fry rolls, a few at a time, 1 minute or until golden brown. Remove with slotted spoon; drain on paper towels. Serve warm with picante sauce for dipping.

Makes 66 appetizers

CHICKEN WITH RICE AND PEAS

1 tablespoon olive oil

1 1/2 pounds chicken tenders

2 cups sliced fresh mushrooms

2 cloves garlic, minced

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper

1/2 cup drained and chopped sun-dried tomatoes in oil

1 package (10 ounces) frozen green peas or 1 can (16 ounces) green peas, drained

1 teaspoon dried oregano

2 tablespoons cornstarch

1 1/2 cups chicken broth

3 cups hot cooked rice

Heat oil in large skillet over medium-high heat until hot. Add chicken, mushrooms, garlic, salt and pepper; cook and stir 4 to 6 minutes or until chicken is no longer pink in center. Reduce heat to medium; add tomatoes, peas and oregano. Simmer 1 to 2 minutes. Combine cornstarch and broth in small bowl. Add cornstarch mixture to skillet; stir until liquid comes to a boil. Cook 2 to 3 minutes more or until sauce thickens Serve over hot rice.

Makes 6 servings

BROWN RICE BLACK BEAN BURRITO

Makes 6 servings.

1 tablespoon vegetable oil

1 medium onion, chopped

2 cloves garlice, minced

1-1/2 teaspoons chili powder

1/2 teaspoon cumin

3 cups cooked brown rice

1 (15- to 16-oz) can black beans, drained and rinsed

1 (11 oz.) can corn, drained

6 (8-inch) flour tortillas

3/4 cup (6 oz.) shredded reduced-fat Cheddar cheese

2 green onions, thinly sliced

1/4 cup plain low-fat yogurt

1/4 cup prepared salsa

Heat oil in large skillet over medium-high heat until hot. Add onion, garlic, chili powder and cumin. Sauté 3 to 5 minutes until onion is tender. Add rice, beans and corn; cook, stirring 2 to 3 minutes until mixture is thoroughly heated. Remove from heat. Spoon 1/2 cup rice mixture down center of each tortilla. Top each with 2 tablespoons cheese, 1 tablespoon green onion and 1 tablespoon yogurt; roll up, top with 1 tablespoon salsa.

Fall Foliage Not Washed Up By Drought

UNIVERSITY PARK, (Centre Co.) – Don't be discouraged by gloom and doom stores, said an expert in Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences. Although the drought has affected some sensitive trees, residents still have the potential to see good fall colors.

"The bad news is that some of our very important color-producing species – red maple, black gum, and the birches – are starting to turn early," said Marc Abrams, professor of forest ecology and physiology. "This is a classic drought response. So we may see a less defined peak in the second week of October. But the good news is that only 10 to 20 percent of the trees have been affected. The real test will be whether we get the normal cool-down period this fall."

For 13 years, Abrams has studied how precipitation and temperature influence timing and intensity of fall colors. He's found that the critical period for coloration runs from the middle of September to the second week of October. "At that point, we need nice cool nights in the high 30s and low 40s – but not a hard frost – and bright sunny days," he said.

Cooler temperatures signal deciduous trees to stop producing chlorophyll, the green pigment responsible for photosynthesis, he said. Photosynthesis is the way plants trap light energy and convert it to sugars and starches, the food and building materials for plants.

As the chlorophyll breaks down and disappears, it unmasks other leaf pigments. It's these other pigments – called xanthophylls and carotenes – that create the glowing yellows and oranges seen in the leaves of yellow poplar, hickory, sycamore, honey locust, birch, beech, and certain maples.

After chlorophyll production stops, trees also produce another pigment in their leaves called anthocyanin. The anthocyanins create the brilliant reds seen in red maple, sassafras, sumac, and black gum.

"Lab and greenhouse research indicates that more anthocyanin is produced when starch levels in the leaves are high," Abrams said. "Because drought reduces photosynthetic rate – which in turn decreases starch levels – some people believe that drought will affect fall coloration.

"But I'm not convinced," he said. "We've had a number of droughts in the past 13 years, and as long as we get that nice cool-down period, starch levels have been adequate to produce good color."

One thing Abrams has found to be very detrimental to fall colors is a very warm late summer and early fall. "The trees get confused," he said. "They try to stay green longer to capture the longer growing season. This may be good for the tree, but it's not good for peak coloration."

So it's really too early to say what will happen this year. "But keep in mind that fall coloration is very resilient," Abrams said. "Over the range of climatic conditions and challenges we've seen, we've still had good fall colors."

If you are looking for a recipe but can't find it, send your recipe request to Lou Ann Good, Cook's Question Corner, in care of Lancaster Farming, P.O. Box 609, Ephrata, PA 17522. There's no need to send an SASE. If we receive an answer to your question, we will publish it as soon as possible. Sometimes we receive numerous answers to the same request, but cannot print each one.

Answers to recipe requests should be sent to the same address.

QUESTION — T. Straub, Millville, wants recipes to make dry soup mixes. She already has one for dry onion soup mix.

QUESTION — D. Reinert, Alburtis, would like a recipe for baked French toast like that served at Shady Maple Smogasbord.

QUESTION — A reader would like a recipe for grasshopper pie, which contains creme de mente flavoring and can be frozen.

QUESTION — A reader wants a recipe to make chicken chow mein for 50-100 people.

QUESTION — A reader wants a recipe for Grasshopper Pie using creme de mente flavoring and which can be frozen.

QUESTION — A reader wants to know if it's possible to make puffed wheat or puffed rice without much financial investment.

QUESTION — Gerald Nuxoll, Boise, Id., wanted the exact recipe for rice pudding that James Michenor describes on pages 4 and 5 of his book, "The Novel." The oven-cooked recipe started with a mixture of rice, milk, eggs, and sugar. After a period of time, cinnamon and raisins were added. Nuxoll has been able to find lots of stovetop recipes but wants an oven recipe. The book setting was in the area covering Lancaster, Berks, Lehigh Counties.

QUESTION — Kris and Susan, readers from New Jersey, want a great recipe for baking Amish-type hard pretzels at home.

QUESTION — A subscriber wants a recipe to make a soft, tasty bread using both whole wheat flour and white flour.

QUESTION — Betty Jakum, Littlestown, wants to know how to prevent soggy pie crust bottoms. Her pies appear to be cooked except the bottom crust is doughy.

QUESTION — G. Sweitzer, Airville, would like recipes for canning cantaloupes and for using gray hubbard squash.

QUESTION — Shirley Schwoerer, Wysox, lost her recipe for Impossible Pineapple Pie, anyone have one for her? Shirley writes (with a smile) that she would be lost without this paper because her hubby says that she can't even boil water without a recipe.

QUESTION — Donna Girardin, Campbell Hall, N.Y., would like a recipe for "half-sour pickles," which she said are often sold at flea markets and fairs. Would appreciate canning instructions to go with it.

QUESTION — Phyllis Stauffer, Carlisle, wants a recipe that Little Caesar's used to have. It was a buttery dip with herbs that they served with breadsticks.

QUESTION — Charles Ensor, Sparks, Md., would like a recipe for sweet Italian sausage.

QUESTION — A reader would like recipes to use barley in stews, as a whole-grain breakfast cereal, etc.

QUESTION — Dianne Decker, Shippensburg, wants a recipe for Shaker Pie, which is a very wet pie made with coconut.

QUESTION — Fern Gerth would like a recipe for lime marmalade.

QUESTION — A reader wants to know where to buy Swiss cheese with a touch of ham and blue cheese by the roll or pound. She can find these items in 4-ounce packages, but they are very expensive. She would also like to know where to buy shrimp chips in a big box.

QUESTION — Lou Ann Sutter, Lebanon, wants to know where she can buy Cento Stuffed Cherry Peppers, only this item, not other Cento products.

QUESTION — Mike would like to know where to purchase goat and sheep milk in Schuylkill County.

QUESTION — Shirley Schwoerer, Wysox, wants to know how to can tiny ears of corn, which she understands is harvested from field corn when it is 2- to 3-inches in length before the tassle begins to show. She found a recipe that is for immediate use, but her family can't eat them that fast so she wants to can the tiny ears in jars. The recipe is for pickling baby ears, but she would like a recipe to can without pickling so that she can use them in dishes such as chow mein.

QUESTION — G. Sweitzer, Airville, would like to know how to make cream of wheat or cream of farina from soft or hard wheat berries using a grain mill. Also, wants cookings instructions.

QUESTION — Cindy Pudliner, New Holland, would like the recipe for the biscuit sold at the restaurant called Joey's, which was located beside the Comfort Inn in New Holland. She used to order the Sausage and biscuits for breakfast. The biscuit made a light, fluffy cake biscuit.

QUESTION — A.W. Good, East Earl, would like to know where to buy Kosher Jel. A previous source is no longer available because the plant burned down.

QUESTION — Brenda Houser, Middletown, would like a recipe to make cookies that taste like the ones served at Shady Maple Smorgasboard. The varieties that she likes are Chocolate Chip Truffle, which has a chocolate batter with chocolate chips in it and a soft chocolate center, and Peanut Butter Truffle, which has a peanut butter batter with chopped nuts and a soft peanut butter filling.

QUESTION — K. B., York Springs, would like a recipe to make rotisserie chicken that tastes like that made by Rutters' Mini Market.

ANSWER — Barb Gaugher, Mansfield, wanted a recipe for Kosher barrel pickles like those sold at deli counters. Thanks to Bob Rumer, Jenkintown, for sending a recipe.

Kosher Dill Pickles

4 pounds cucumbers, cleaned, cut lengthwise
14 cloves garlic, peeled, sliced
3 cups water
3 cups white vinegar
⅓ cup pickling salt
4 peppercorns per jar
2 tablespoons dill seed per jar

Put sliced cucumbers in quart jars with peppercorns. Heat and mix together salt, water, vinegar, and garlic to boil and disolve the salt. Remove the garlic (put one or two in each jar). Pour the brine into the jars with the cucumbers leaving ½ -inch headspace. Immediately adjust the lids. Process in boiling water bath for 15 minutes.

If any jars don't seal, refrigerate them.

ANSWER — Elmer McGowan, Millerstown, wanted a recipe to make tongue souse. Thanks to several readers for sending recipes.

Tongue With Spicy Sauce

2 tablespoons salad oil
1 small onion, minced
1 cup diced celery
8-ounce can tomato sauce
½ cup water
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon Worchestershire sauce
⅛ teaspoon pepper
Dash ground cloves
1 tablespoon vinegar
6-ounce can beef tongue

Heat oil in saucepan. Add onion and celery; saute until golden.

Add remaining ingredients except the tongue; simmer 15 minutes.

Cut tongue into ½ -inch cubes; add to cooked sauce; heat through.

Serve over cooked spaghetti, noodels or potatoes. Makes 4 servings.

ANSWER — Arlene from Snyder County wanted recipes for Swiss Chard. Thanks to Marilyn DeMeyer, Hilton, N.Y., for sending a recipe. She writes that swiss chard leaves can also be used in place of spinach in any recipe, and is especially good used in vegetable lasagna.

Swiss Chard And Bacon

¾ to 1 pound Swiss chard (stalks included)
½ pound bacon or turkey bacon
1 tablespoon olive oil
3 tablespoon butter
½ teaspoon salt, more to taste
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
Dash garlic powder

Tear up Swiss chard leaves and stalks, boil until stalks are fork tender. Meanwhile, cook bacon in a large frying pan. Drain and crumble bacon and return to pan with remaining ingredients. Drain Swiss chard and add to pan, simmer 5 minutes to blend flavors.

Rice

SKILLET SPANISH RICE

1 pound lean ground beef
1 medium onion, chopped
1/2 cup diced green pepper
1 cup uncooked rice
1 teaspoon chili powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
1 1/2 cups water

Cook beef, onion and green pepper in large skillet over medium heat; drain fat. Stir in rice, chili powder, salt, pepper, tomato sauce and water; bring to a boil. Reduce heat, cover and simmer 5 to 20 minutes or until rice is tender.
Makes 6 servings.

SMORGASBURGERS

Makes 6 servings
2 tablespoons vegetable oil, divided
1 medium onion, chopped
1 medium apple, peeled and chopped
1 clove garlic, minced
1 teaspoon dried sage or 1 tablespoon fresh chopped sage
1 pound ground turkey
3 cups cooked brown rice
2 tablespoons ketchup
1/2 taspoon salt
1/4 teasoon ground black pepper
6 hamburger buns, toasted
Assorted condiments

Heat 1 tablespoon oil in large skillet over medium-high heat until hot. Add onion, apple, garlic and sage; cook 3 to 5 minutes or until onion is tender. Remove from heat. Combine onion mixture, turkey, rice, ketchup, salt and pepper in large bowl. Shape into patties. Heat remaining 1 tablespoon oil in same skillet over medium-high heat until hot. Cook burgers 6 minutes per side or until thoroughly cooked. Serve on buns with condiments.

SURPRISE CRUST PIZZA

Makes 4 servints
A rice and cheese mixture is the base for this hearty meal.
3 cups cooked rice
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 egg, beaten
1 medium onion, sliced into rings
1/2 medium green bell pepper, sliced
2 cups sliced mushrooms
2 garlic cloves, minced
1 cup low-sodium tomato sauce
2 teaspoons oregano
1 teaspoon fennel seeds (optional)
4 1/2 ounces part-skim mozzarella cheese, shredded.

1. Preheat oven to 425° F. Spray a 12" round pizza pan with nonstick cooking spray.

2. In large bowl, stir together rice, Parmesan cheese and egg. Press firmly into prepared pizza pan to form a "crust." Bake 20 minutes.

3. Spray large nonstick skillet with nonstick cooking spray. Add onion and pepper and stir-fry until tender, about 5 minutes. Stir in sliced mushrooms and minced garlic and cook until mushrooms are browned, 5-8 minutes.

4. Arrange vegetable mixture over baked rice "crist"; spread tomato sauce evenly over pie. Sprinkle with oregano, fennel seeds if desired, and mozzarella cheese.

5. Bake 10-15 minutes or until cheese is bubbling and browned. Cut into 8 wedges.

Landowners Can Prevent Invasive Plant Species

UNIVERSITY PARK, (Centre Co.) – Invasive plant species are one of the top environmental threats to Pennsylvania ecosystems, according to a plant scientist in Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences.

But property owners whose land receives no or minimal maintenance can help prevent the spread of these weeds by following several simple steps.

An invasive plant is defined as one that grows aggressively, spreads, and displaces other plants in an ecosystem

"Many species now considered invasive originally were introduced intentionally as landscape plants or for other purposes," said Larry Kuhns, professor of ornamental horticulture. "The best insurance against the spread of invasive plants is to avoid their use and to educate others about their use.

"Invasive plants are less of an issue for average homeowners who own small, highly maintained lots of up to three acres in size," Kuhns said. "A property owner who has larger tracts of land left in a natural state should be aware of invasive plants."

Kuhns offers some step-by-step advice to homeowners who would like to keep invasive plants in check on or near their property.

• Prevent landscape disturbance. Invasives will thrive in bare soil or tilled earth where native plants have been displaced. "One key to controlling invasives is to protect healthy plant communities." Kuhns said.

• Maintenance plans. Although most homeowners regularly maintain lawns and ornamental gardens, other property areas need maintenance as well. "Meadows should be mowed at least once a year," Kuhns said, "In woodlands, owners should walk the property and eliminate invasive plants."

• Go scouting. All homeowners should inspect their land every year.

• Remove invasive early. If a homeowner has been scouting vigilantly, most invasive plants can be found when they are small and easily controlled. Kuhns warns that invasives should not be allowed to go to seed. "Digging or cutting out the offending plant is preferred," Kuhns said. "But large plant populations may need to be stopped using a herbicide. Only trained professionals should apply herbicides."

• Replant after weeding. Invasive plants exploit bare soil and unused niches. "If you remove a weed, the invasive plant will come right back unless you substitute another plant," Kuhns said. "It's important to fill niches with plants that will provide seeds for the future."

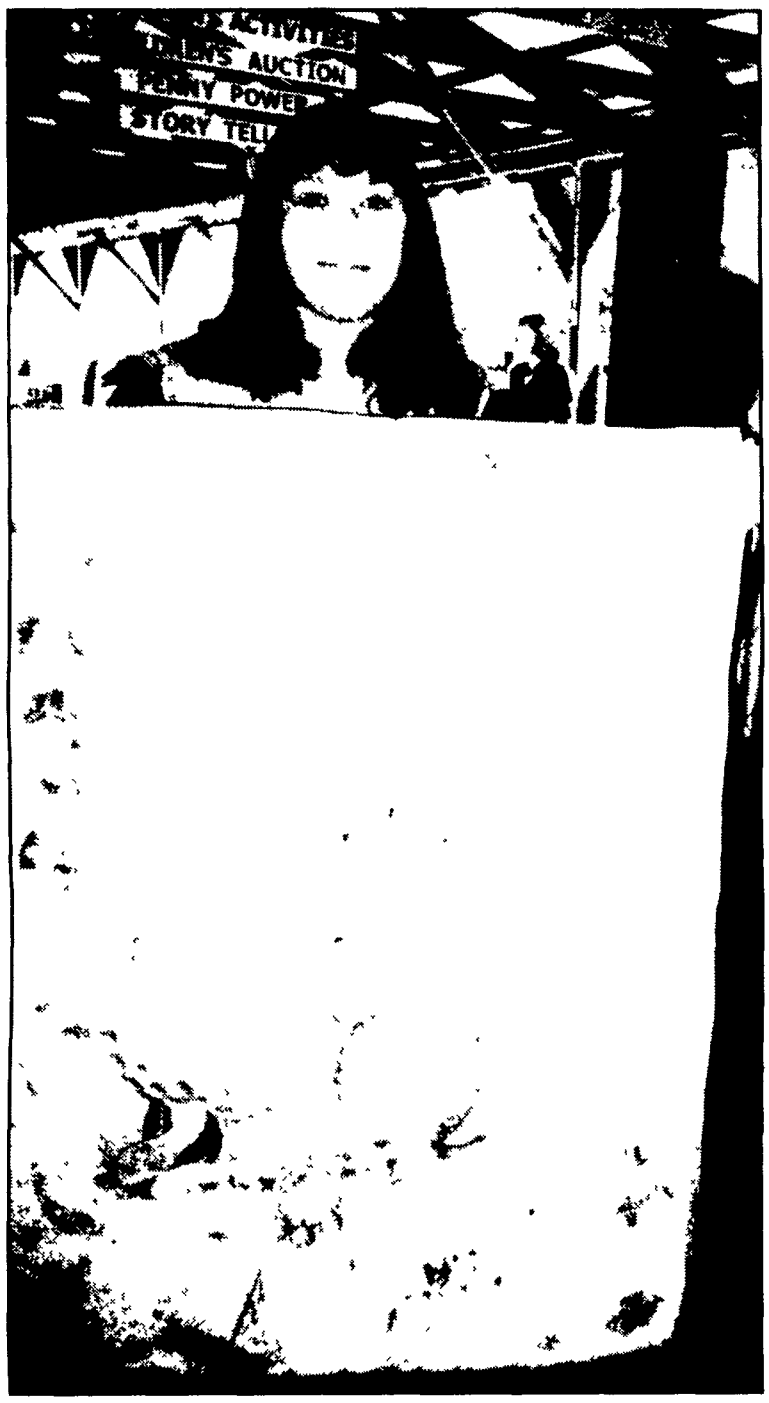
Children's Auction Great Experience At MCC Sale

GAY BROWNLEE
Somerset Co. Correspondent

McHENRY, Md. — There were 50 or so kids at the children's auction. They were allowed to help raise money for the mission work of Mennonite Central Committee (MCC).

Their parents and grandparents were at a much bigger sale in another building. They were helping MCC, too.

MCC needed the money to help families and children in other parts of the world who can't help themselves.



Mary Beth Green, 14, had $9 in her auction budget and spent every bit on a cuddly cover at the Children's Auction at the MCC relief sale.

A group of young girls is in the "quilting corner" where they learn how to quilt from a grownup lady at the MCC relief sale. Kids were wonderful helpers. They had a lot of fun and learned amazing things about missions.

In a big half circle, the group sat on hay bales in a fairground's dairy barn. The smaller youngsters had dads and moms with them.

There was a rule that parents could not bid, only tell their youngsters when to bid.

Before the auction began the toys, games, and useful things were previewed. So a young person knew ahead of time if he wanted to bid on something.

Each bidder was given a piece of white paper with a number written in black. He was told to hold it up only when bidding because the auctioneer needed to see it.

The number identified the person who held it.

A very nice woman named Dianne Holsopple was the auctioneer. She understood that when kids go to their very own auction for the first time ever, their hands are clammy and tummies feel funny. It is sort of scary.

Michael Yoder, 8, Oakland, Maryland is happy with a snake grip light he bid on and bought at the MCC sale.

"Don't be nervous," Mrs. Holsopple told them.

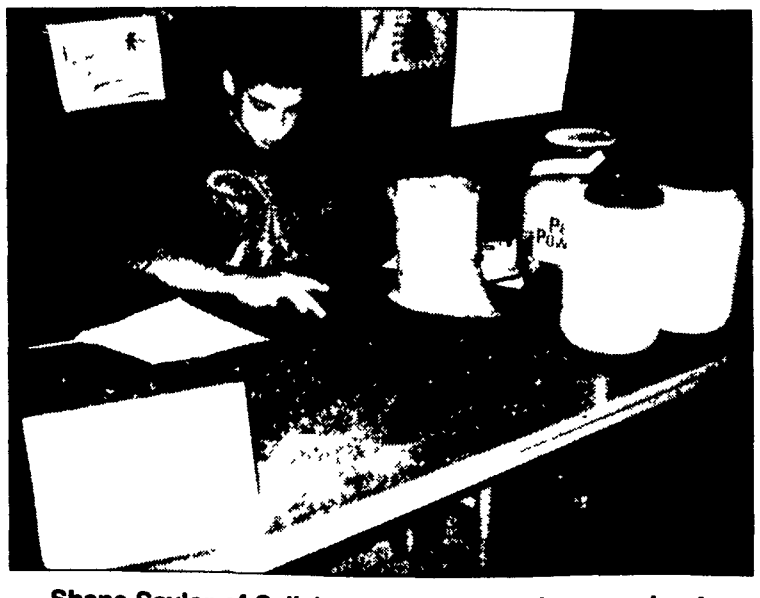
Then she explained what an "auction budget" is.

An auction budget means if you have $5 to spend you must learn to spend no more than $5 for all the things you want to buy.

You can bid up to $5 for one item. Then you stop even if somebody else bids more money and gets it.

(Turn to Page B11)

"Ring-a-Chicken" was a fun game kids could play in the children's activities building when the Western Maryland/Western Pennsylvania Relief Sale for Mennonite Central Committee was conducted in McHenry, Md. Kids learned that chickens helped the people of Croatia rebuild after a bad war in their land.



Shane Saylor of Salisbury, Pa., is counting pennies for the MCC Penny Power project. It totaled $1,700 at the Western Maryland/Western Pennsylvania Relief Sale.

Children's Auction

Or, if you want two things you can use half of the $5 – $2.50 – for each item. That is how to use an auction budget. It helps to write your auction budget on paper and keep it with you when you bid.

No matter how much money you have, the auction budget works the same. You must not bid more money than you mean to spend.

Mrs. Holsopple told the children that sometimes adults forget to obey their own budget and bid higher than they had planned. They, too must be more careful.

It is good for children to learn this habit. It will help them make good decisions about money when they grow up.

The young bidders saw all kinds of neat things such as Legos, clowns, dolls, toy tractors and cars, beach ball, snake lights, toy dishes, wooden toys, teddy bears, games, locks, banks, and more.

Mary Beth Green of Salisbury, Pa., loved the cuddly cover she bought for $9. "I blew my budget," Mary Beth said, "but I really wanted it." It was the only item she bid for. At least she didn't go over her auction budget.

Michael Yoder, 8, from Oakland, Maryland was determined to have the adjustable grip light. He held up the Number 244 to show he was bidding. Michael now owns the light.

Naomi Tice and her younger brother, Isaac, from Salisbury, Pa., had an auction budget of $15. With all her heart Naomi wanted the Legos. Isaac wanted the combination-lock bank and wooden top.

Together, the items would have exceeded their auciton budget, but they talked to their dad, Enos Tice. Mrs. Tice agreed to give them $5 more. With $20 Naomi and Isaac had enough money to buy everything on their list.

There were lots of other kids' activities at the giant sale, known as the Western Maryland/Western Pennsylvania Relief Sale.

In the Penny Power project people were counting coins all day long. They raised $1,700. Imagine counting 170 thousand pennies one by one.

Kids also stuffed more than 400 school kits for their friends overseas. Church women first sewed cloth bags with drawstrings to hold the rulers, notebooks, pencils, erasers, crayons, and school supplies the kids put in them.

There was sand art, a center where kids could learn to quilt, and "Ring-a-Chicken," to learn how chickens help MCC.

Some 8,000 real chickens – hens that lay eggs – are helping to rebuild after a war in Croatia.

Kids learned how water is pulled out of the ground as done in the country of Bolivia, where you crank a long rope with a bucket at the end.

Wedding Sets Precedent At Farmers', Threshermen's Jubilee

GAY BROWNLEE
Somerset Co. Correspondent

NEW CENTERVILLE (Somerset Co.) — Jane Rishel of Clarksburg and Francis Dorr of Indiana were not interested in statistics when they, unwittingly, became the first couple ever to hold a wedding at the New Centerville Farmers' and Threshermen's Jubilee in September.

Instead, they were thinking only to have a unique and non-traditional matrimonial event, based on a mutual desire for simplicity and a shared appreciation of agriculture.

Although they themselves had never visited the Jubilee which celebrates agriculture and steam power from a bygone era, relatives who come every year highly recommended it for the couple's consideration.

"I had a choice between corn picking and deer hunting," Rishel said "He understands tractors – he doesn't understand white flowing gowns."

"I wanted something simple and this was it," said Dorr.

Jubilee officials, when confronted with answering the amazing request, were delighted to offer the Jubilee museum. It shelters vintage machines during the year and, during the event, doubles as a program and entertainment site.

At 9:30 a.m. Sept. 11, the couple stood amid the 47th Jubilee's late potted flowers and miniature steam engine replica while, in a black robe, District Justice William Roush of Boswell officiated the service.

The magistrate at an earlier time had asked the two to choose between a 10- or a 20-minute service.

"Ten!" they answered, emphatically.

Roush, nonetheless, conveyed the responsibilities of a husband and his wife to each other and to their community.

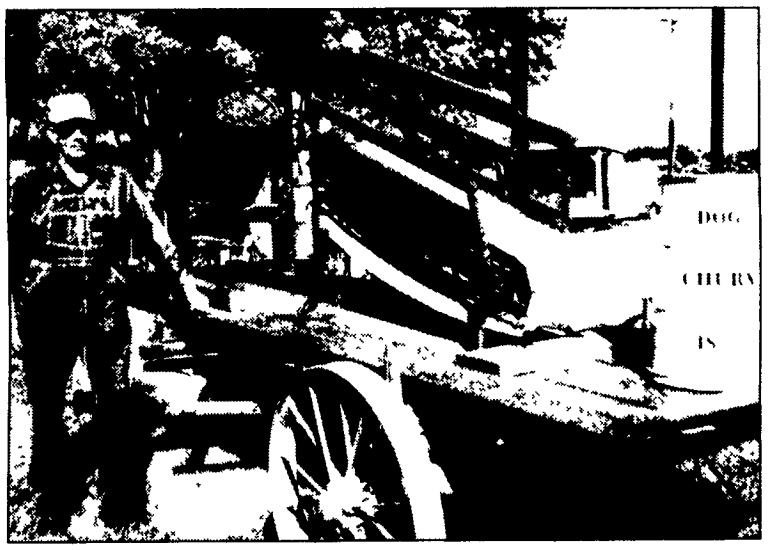
The success of the marriage depends on the determination and commitment of the two persons exchanging vows, he told them, before he prayed and asked for the rings.

Because the affair was unrestricted to public access, some folks who heard about it were curious enough to meander in and watch. Several invited guests were there.

Instead of a gown, the bride looked pretty in a western style cream-beige outfit, whose vest was enhanced by Indian beading. She wore western boots that matched.

Dorothy Auen, an aunt who stood with the niece, was attired in a green western dress with tiered skirt.

Newlyweds Jane (Rishel) and Francis Dorr, center, are flanked by Dorothy Auen and Edgar Auen, who witnessed the wedding officiated by District Justice William Roush of Boswell.



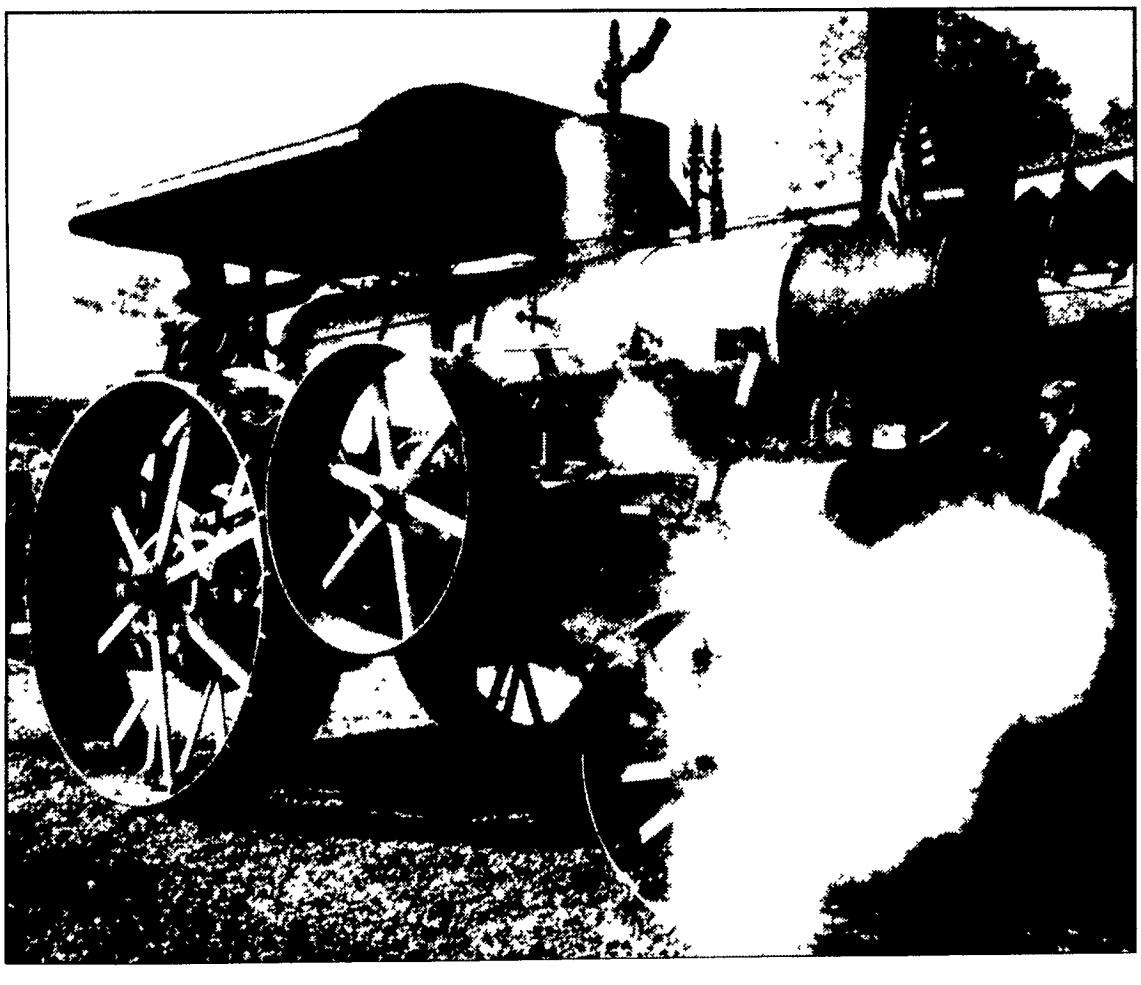
This contraption, could make two churns of butter at a time. Its use was demonstrated at the New Centerville Farmers' and Threshermen's Jubilee.

The ladies carried simple bouquets of artificial flowers they had prepared for the occasion at home.

Standing for Dorr was Edgar Auen, his supervisor at a Pennsylvania Game Commission office where they both work.

On the side, Dorr beef farms with two brothers. His new bride, however, describes her waitressing position at Donatello's in Indiana as "working on the other end of agriculture."

Fred Sipe, left, king of the 1999 Farmers' and Threshermen's Jubilee, is also one of the originators of the long-running event in New Centerville, Somerset County. With him is Jay Hemminger, last year's king and overseer of demonstrations and equipment at the Jubilee. Sipe runs the shingle maker with his restored 1930 Rumley-6 tractor.



This 1911 steam engine was built by Gideon Miller, a Mennonite preacher from Springs, Somerset County. At the New Centerville Farmers' and Theshermen's Jubilee, they are letting water off the pistons.

Once united, before leaving for a private celebration, the couple absorbed themselves in Jubilee activities where visitors apparently anticipate returning for an annual dose of nostalgia.

Typical attendance is 12,000 to 15,000. After almost a half-century they still enjoy ear-splitting whistles from steam engines and don't mind coming away smelling of burnt wood and coal sulfurs picked up while they had fun.

"It is popular because of the camaraderie that has developed over the years," said Dale Cramer, son of Charles L. Cramer, one of the 1953 Jubilee originators, now deceased.

"There is interest in farming, equipment, procedures, and there is curiosity," he observed.

The elder Cramer and Ted Sipe, 80, the 1999 Jubilee king,

Wedding Sets Precedent

worked with a few other fellows to launch the event.

They had two good reasons to make it go. It would replace annual fund drives for the New Centerville and Rural Volunteer Fire Company organized in 1949, and preserve a historical period for posterity.

Threshing, for instance, interests visitors because it can be demonstrated from the beginning – hand flailing, the groundhog thresher turned by two men, the treadmill, tumble shaft, and steam power.

Because he restores antique tractors, Ted Sipe wouldn't miss the Jubilee, where he can make shingles and show off a Rumley 6, a 1930 tractor at the same time. This year, he did so with more style than ever because of the fancy crimson and gold crown on the king's head.

Folks seemed entranced by the 1901 cider press operated by an intimidating steam boiler that also sent power to the nearby sawmill, the cookers for bean soup, the applebutter machine, and the cutoff saw.

Anytime the fireman opened its door, persons in the vicinity instantly stepped further back for protection from the blast of shimmering heat, because the white hot flames they saw were emitting tremendous temperatures.

"The Jubilee is all history," reported Jay Hemminger, the man in charge of demonstrations and machinery. He navigated the grounds on a golf cart.

Hemminger, in fact, last summer bought a 1928 Cultor that has a Model T Ford engine and Ford parts. It was built by Continental Manufacturing, Springfield, Ohio.

Hemminger said it runs well but added, apologetically, he hadn't time to clean it. The fact didn't appear to trouble passers-by at the Jubilee.

Twelve steam engines were lined up and there were four interesting half-scale models, as well, to examine.

Hemminger pointed out the 1911 steam engine that Gideon Miller, a Mennonite preacher from Springs, Somerset County, built. It now belongs to Mike Miller of Somerset. It unfailingly commands attention wherever it is taken.

The intimidating industrial engines permanently installed in the power house are maintained throughout the year by Mike Knepper, Albert Hay, and Orlan Clevenger.

"It is a part of history," Mike Knepper said. "It is nice to keep the stuff running so future generations can enjoy it."

Notices were posted in the power house informing folks that all engines are "Y2K Compatible."

Chances of taking one of the monsters home to deal with a massive power failure on New Year's Eve 2000, however, didn't generate much hope for those fearing the date.

Take the 800-horsepower Chicago pneumatic diesel engine added to the Jubilee in 1983, or the 150-horsepower Reeves propane gas engine that makes power for the five-day shindig, or the 75-horsepower Fairbanks-Morris engine donated by the Somerset Milling Company. All demonstrate the energy of steam at which Jubilee'rs marvel.

The Jubilee activities are designed to appeal to the whole family regardless of age. Quilt show, crafts, races, down-home contests, a schedule of musical entertainment, and great food, year after year, generate a powerful good time

Extension 4-H Agents

• The Blue Ribbon Award was presented to Wanda Braymer, Crawford County, who was recognized for her outstanding program development in international cultural programs, 4-H school enrichment programming, and the Kids-In-Control 4-H Project. This award is given to an agent with three to seven years of 4-H and youth development programming experience.

The Clover Award was presented to Sheryl Vanco, a volunteer 4-H leader from Warren County. The Clover Award recognizes an individual who is not a member of the association, but who is making significant contributions to the 4-H and youth development program at the county, regional, and state levels. Sheryl Vanco was honored for her efforts as a key leader in the Warren County 4-H teen program, coach for dairy judging, and international host family.

The Distinguished Service Award was presented to Melanie Barkley, Bedford County, and Susan Taylor, Allegheny County. Barkley is responsible for educational programs related to the 4-H livestock projects in Bedford county as well as adult agricultural programming in livestock, agronomy, pesticide education and home horticulture. Susan Taylor has program responsibilities for a large 4-H school enrichment program in Allegheny County with an emphasis on improving the life skills of students while they experience hands-on science activities.

Three agents were recognized for 25 Years of Service to the 4-H youth development program. Edward Horning, Centre County, noted the support of adult volunteers and teen leaders as a major reward for his years of service. Mae Hostetter, retired Armstrong County agent, has been recognized for the computerized financial records program and 4-H treasurers book she developed for the 4-H program. Roxanne Price, York County coordinator maintains a balanced, high quality educational program which reaches out to 2,200 youth residing in York county.

Nancy Kadwill, Montgomery County 4-H coordinator, received the Air Force Recruiting Salute Award. This award is presented to an individual who has created a positive image through leadership and citizenship related to the development of the 4-H program. Nancy has worked to strengthen and expand the 4-H program in Hungary and Slovakia as well as providing leadership to the state 4-H Ambassador Conference which trains 4-H members in the communication skills necessary to "tell the 4-H story" in their communities and throughout the state.

The state Diversity award was presented to Mary Miller, Montgomery County. Mary teaches diversity workshops to teens, volunteer leaders, and coworkers to enhance their own personal empowerment as well as community leaders who wish to break down barriers in their communities.

Helaine Brown, Montgomery County, received the Search for Excellence in Teen Programming Award. Helaine's 4-H Baby-sitting Course is a 10-hour program designed to teach teens how to become responsible baby sitters. More than 300 youth participate in the program on an annual basis. Youth who participate in the course learn how to react in an emergency, how to apply simple first aid, and how to safely care for infants and children according to their stage of development.

The whole point of production is reproduction.

That's such a simple, basic precept of growing things that most of us take it for granted.

But the reason plants (and animals) produce offspring is to perpetuate the species to produce more of the species. And, all around us, the seasonal crunch is on plants to ripen and spread their seeds, for perpetuation of the species through a next generation.

One plant species scattered around the backyard is already busy kicking its seed offspring "out of the nest" in its own unique way. We're finding them stuck to socks, stuck to shoestrings, stuck to sweatshirts, to say nothing of being stuck to the family dog.

These doggone burdocks and I do battle around the the place all summer long.

And they always win. No matter how diligently I stalk these tough perennial weeds, they persist. I cut and dig and dump salt into the residue of roots left in the ground. Whole bloodlines of the clan still always manage to escape and hide in obscure corners.

Then they gleefully brag about it by fastening their bushy seed balls to whatever they can hitch a ride onto during this seed-spreading time of the year. Sort of the plant version of the "kick me!" note stuck to our backs.

While the burdock "sticker" seeds are less than welcome, other seeds rank higher up on our values list around here, especially by the feathered locals. Traffic at the birdfeeder has plummeted recently, except for the perpetual munching of the squirrels and one mourning dove thumbing its beak at the local hunters. Our usual parade of sparrows and finches has found more natural "pickin's" available.

A favorite are the sunflowers, with several varieties ripening seeds. The smaller, cutting sunflower form lots of heads, the smallest having just a few dozen little seeds. But a row of the Mammouth Striped type, planted along the edge of the vegetable garden, leans in all directions, the stems weighted by wide, heavy heads filled with a bounty of the fat, striped sunflower seeds especially loved by the cardinals and bluejays.

While those birds can't hang upside down to snack on them as easily as the smaller finches and chickadees, they still manage to get their share. Thus eliminating all the middlemen, avoiding turf battles with the squirrels, and slashing the volume of birdseed residue scattered over back porch. One of those win-win situations.

Except for the ever-hungry, bushy-tailed bunch. But they've had their diet supplemented otherwise by our grandsons, who relish picking up bags of another kind of seed: that of the oak trees. The squirrels only eat half of the acorns, burying the rest for future enjoyment.

My idea of species perpetuation doesn't really include acorns sprouting into oak trees... in the porch planters.

Milkweeds and thistles burst their dry seed shells and explode seed-bearing bits of fluff onto the brisk October breezes. Rose "hips" fatten into orange-colored, vitamin-laden globes and the wild bittersweet vines droop with the weight of their berries and mockingbirds fighting over them.

On a fall fast track, we humans hasten to harvest and store the offspring of plants – corn and soybeans, garden beans maturing to dried seed in the garden, apples to store, potatoes to dig, precious late Long Keeper tomatoes to clean and wrap like the treasure they are. Tough black walnuts are tossed where vehicles can drive over them to remove the finger-staining outer husks. Even the seed pods and heads of special annuals and perennials are tucked away in a cool, dry corner for future beauty.

Thank goodness for the effort of growing things to produce, in order to reproduce.

Without it, what would we all eat?

Apple Dumplings, Music, Crafts At Ephrata Cloister

EPHRATA (Lancaster Co.) — Imagine a leisurely fall day. The trees are ablaze with color. The sights and sounds of the past are alive. The smell of warm apple dumplings fills the air.

This is waht awaits visitors to the Ephrata Cloister the weekend of Oct. 9-11, when the national historic landmark celebrates autumn in Ephrata.

Highlighting the event will be the annual apple dumpling sale on Saturday beginning at 10 a.m. Sunday will focus on the music of the Ephrata Cloister with performances by the Ephrata Cloister Chorus in the historic Meetinghouse at 2 p.m., 3 p.m. and 4 p.m. Each of the days will also include tours of the site and demonstrations of traditional crafts.

"It's become a tradition with many people to get a warm apple dumpling and visit with friends and neighbors," said Michael Showalter, museum educator.

The first of the delicious Pennsylvania German confections made of apples, spices, and sugar all wrapped in dough come out of the oven at 10 a.m. and the gathering continues until the last dumpling is sold. Vegetable soup, hot dogs, coffee and apple cider are also served on Saturday.

Proceeds from the Apple Dumpling Festival support the "Back to the Cloister Fund," an endowment used to purchase original 18th century artifacts created at the German religious community.

Sunday's performances of music will include original 18th century compositions by Conrad Beissel, founder of Ephrata, along with other early American composers. "Hearing that music in the original building is a special experience," said Showalter. The chorus, under the direction of Dr. J. Daryl Hollinger, is a volunteer group celebrating its 40th anniversary in 1999.

Textile making, printing, book binding, and shoemaking are just a sample of the traditional crafts scheduled to be demonstrated through out the three days. The skilled craftsmen will discuss their work and offer visitors a chance to inspect the materials of history. Paper cutter Neil Haring will demonstrate his work on Saturday in the Museum Store.

Tickets are not required for the Apple Dumpling Festival. For additional information, call (717) 733-6600.

CRAZY FOR CRANBERRIES

Cranberries are one of three fruits native to North America*. Native Americans used cranberries for food, medicine, dyes and as a peace symbol. Early settlers called them "crane berries," which shortened to cranberries because the flower of the trailing vine resembled the neck and head of a crane.

These tart berries were abundant in Massachusetts. Rumor has it that cranberries were served at the first Thanksgiving in Plymouth. The first documented harvest was in Dennis, Mass. in 1816.

Cranberries grow in low trailing vines in bogs or marshes. Vines produce fruit each year and can survive indefinitely. Some bogs are more than 100 years old. Harvesting begins in September.

In early years, when berries were hand picked, it was a community affair. Later, berries were combed from the vines with a scoop.

Today most berries are wet harvested. Bogs are flooded, then mechanical water wheels called "egg beaters" stir up the water to dislodge the berries. As the berries float to the surface, they are corralled and loaded onto trucks for transporting to the processing plant where they will become juice, sauce, or relish.

Dry harvesting uses a lawnmower-like machine to comb berries from the vine, collecting them in a bin at the back of the machine. These are sold as fresh berries, used in baking and cooking.

Fresh, good quality cranberries have pockets of air that make them bounce. This bounce was first noticed by an early New Jersey grower, "Peg-Leg" Webb. His wooden leg made it difficult to carry the barrels of cranberries down the barn ladder.

One day he dropped a barrel and watched the cranberries. The firmest fruit bounced down to the bottom of the ladder. The rotten, bruised fruit remained on the steps. This observation led to the development of the bounce board separator that is used today to separate fresh berries.

When purchasing berries for your table, select ones with a bright red color. Avoid packages that show soft fruit or condensation. The fruit will keep in your refrigerator for 2-3 weeks.

Cranberries are a good source of vitamin C. They are also high in fiber and low in sodium. Some research indicates that cranberry juice can inhibit the incidence of urinary tract infections.

Cranberries are available fresh, frozen, dried, and canned as sauce, relish, or juice. Whole berries do not absorb sugar well and will be tart. Chop or cut in half before adding to batters and doughs.

Freezing converts some of the starches to sugar. Reduce the total amount of sweetener in recipes calling for frozen berries. Do not thaw before using. Whether using fresh or frozen berries, wash and sort just before using.

Gingerbread With Warm Cranberry Compote

1 14.5-ounce package of gingerbread cake mix (or your own favorite homemade)
2 cups fresh or frozen cranberries
3 cups pineapple chunks, cut in half
1 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
Whipped Cream

Prepare gingerbread as directed on package. Cool completely.

Combine remaining ingredients, except whipped cream, in a medium saucepan. Bring mixture to a boil and cook just until the cranberries begin to pop, stirring frequently. Cool sauce slightly. Spoon warm compote over each serving of gingerbread. Top with whipped cream. Makes 9 servings.

* The other two native fruits to North America are blueberries and Concord Grapes.

35th National Apple Harvest Festival Nears

BIGLERVILLE — Anniversaries are causing much ado in Adams County.

Adams County—celebrating 200 years is home to the 35th National Apple Harvest Festival.

Festivities will be Oct. 2-3 and 9-10 at the South Mountain Fairgrounds, northwest of Gettysburg in Arendtsville.

Festival hours are 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily, rain or shine. The four-day event is sponsored by The Upper Adams Jaycees.

Chairman Barb Rudisill, Biglerville, and Co-chairman Gordy Strawsburg, Gardners, Upper Adams jaycee members, are in charge of more than 35 committees who work year round to offer four days of fun to all visitors.

Come hungry and eat your way around the festival grounds. Come for breakfast, stay for lunch, have a snack, and take home supper. Sample the large array of apple products that are also available for purchase. Apple Butter, apple cider, apple jelly, applesauce, apple syrup, and candied apples are being made right before your eyes. Don't forget to take home some fresh Adams County apples.

Returning organizations include the Adams County Fruit Growers Association with their popular Orchard Restaurant, the Adams County Republican Club with barbecued chicken (first weekend), and the 4-H Clubs of Adams County (second weekend). Try the delicious food at the Upper Adams Lions and Arendtsville Lions Clubs' restaurants or the Cashtown Lions Club's fresh sausage and scrapple sandwiches.

Try a steak sandwich with all the fixins' at the Adams County Beef Producers' booth, french fries and fresh lemonade at the Dillsburg Jaycees and Hanover Jaycees' booths, or enjoy an Upper Adams Jaycees' pit beef sandwich.

Returning to the Wagon Trail is a Case steam engine owned by Paul Leatherman, Myersville, Md., pulling a wagon filled with young and old which may be attacked by Indians before the ride is over.

The festival has much to offer everyone.

Visit Kid Kountry and participate in Johnny Appleseed's games, then stroll over to the Petting Zoo sponsored by the 4-H Clubs of Adams County. Be sure to wear comfortable shoes, but when your feet get tired, take a narrated bus tour through the orchards surrounding the fairgrounds.

Stop at one of four stages: Rockin' Apple, Bluegrass Hollow, Appleseed, or Cider Barrel to listen to country, blue grass, or '50s, and '60s music. Or drop by Apple Auditorium to see the Fair Squares, Carroll County Cloggers, folk music by Orrtanna, or the Chambersburg Steel Band.

Strolling acts include an accordionist, clowns, jugglers, and appearances by Adams County Apple Queen Kim Marion, York Springs.

In the demonstration area, Oct. 2-3, Native American Dancers will give three performances. On Oct. 9-10, Wagner's Frisbee Dogs – who appeared on the "David Letterman Show" – will make appearances. For complete programming information for all four days, check out the web site at www.appleharvest.com.

Admission is $6 for adults, $5 for senior citizens, and children under 12 are free. parking is included. Pets are not allowed on festival grounds.

For more information, write The National Apple Festival, P.O. Box 38, Biglerville, PA 17307, call (717) 677-4961, email appleharvest@cvn.net, or the Gettysburg Convention and Visitors Bureau, 35 Carlisle Street, Gettysburg, PA 17325, (717) 334-6274.

Question Corner

ANSWER — Mrs. Dale Burkhart, Narvon, wanted a beef seasoning mixture containing coffee. Thanks to Ruth Sholl for sending a recipe.

Seasoning Mixture

½ to 1 teaspoon coarse salt
1 teaspoon finely ground coffee
1 teaspoon black pepper
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon garlic powder
1 teaspoon dried red pepper flakes

Rub roast with salt. Combine coffee, pepper, paprika, garlic powder, and red pepper. Sprinkle over beef and roast as desired.

ANSWER — Evan Weidman, Newville, wanted a recipe to make a large amount of barbecue sauce. Thanks to T. Straub, Millville, for sending a recipe.

Bar-B-Que Sauce For 100 Chicken Halves

½ gallon vinegar
1½ pounds butter
1 pint vegetable oil
1 quart water
¼ pound salt

Combine all ingredients in large kettle. Heat slowly until all butter is melted and well blended.

ANSWER — A York reader wanted a recipe for apple walnut bread with sugar topping. Thanks to Josephine Matenus, Dallas, for sending a recipe.

Apple Nut Bread

⅓ cup brown sugar
⅔ cup salad oil
1 egg
1 cup sour milk
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2½ cups flour
1½ cups diced apples
⅓ cup chopped nuts

Stir ingredients together in order listed. Pour into two greased 8-inch loaf pans; sprinkle with ½ cup sugar mixed with 1 tablespoon melted butter. Bake at 350 degrees for 60 minutes or until done.

ANSWER — Wanda Boop, Mifflinburg, wanted recipes to make goat's cheese. Thanks to Marlene Martin, Ephrata, for sending a recipe.

Easy Goat's Milk Ricotta Cheese

1 gallon goat's milk
¼ cup vinegar
2 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon salt
½ teaspoon baking soda

Heat milk until almost boiling. Add vinegar. It should form curds immediately. Drain in a cloth-lined colander a few minutes. Add butter, salt, and baking soda. Put in container, refrigerate. Good in sandwiches, casserole, or on top of pizza.

ANSWER — For the reader who wanted barley recipes, here are some from Marlene Martin.

Chicken Barley Soup

2-3 pound broiler-fryer chicken, cut up
2 quarts water
1½ cups diced carrots
1 cup diced celery
½ cup barley
½ cup chopped onion
1 chicken bouillion cube, optional
1 teaspoon salt, optional
1 bay leaf
½ teaspoon poultry seasoning
½ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon dried sage

In a large kettle, cook chicken in water until tender. Cool broth and skim off fat. Bone the chicken and cut into bite-sized pieces; return to kettle along with remaining ingredients. Simmer, covered, for at least one hour or until barley and vegetables are tender. Remove bay leaf. Yield: 5 servings (about 1½ quarts).

Barley Broccoli Soup

3 cups water
3 beef bouillon cubes
½ cup medium pearl barley
2 cups fresh or frozen chopped broccoli or asparagus, cooked, drained
4 cups milk
5 slices American cheese
¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
¼ teaspoon pepper
4 bacon strips, cooked, crumbled, optional

In a saucepan, bring water, bouillon and barley to a boil. Reduce heat; cover and simmer 50-60 minutes or until barley is tender and nearly all liquid is absorbed. Stir often but do not drain. Add broccoli or asparagus. Stir in milk, cheese, nutmeg, and pepper. Add bacon, if desired. Heat through, stirring often, until soup is hot and cheese is melted. Yields 8 servings.

"In only three weeks of using the Chi Machine, I lost 15 pounds effortlessly - and hospital lab tests showed that my blood cholesterol level dropped from 225 to 160 mg"

How do I use my Chi Machine?

* Place the machine on a rug Lie on your back and put your ankles in the grooves of the footrest on top of the machine
* Set the timer switch to activate the machine for the number of minutes you desire First time users should start with 2-5 minutes
* The footrest will begin to move back and forth, carrying your feet briskly from side to side This movement will carry up through your legs and torso, throuthout your entire body, causing you to wiggle back and forth - that's right like a fish swimming in water
* All you do now is relax and breathe deeply, letting the machine rock you gently but firmly for a maximum of 15 minutes
* When the time is up and the machine stops, remain lying down for another two to five minutes, relaxing and breathing deeply, enjoying the remarkable afterglow - chi - as it moves throughout your body

"In two months of using the Chi Machine, my thighs, hips, stomach and buttocks now look as good as they did when I was in my 20's - and I'm almost 52"

Does your body get the oxygen it needs?
(Adapted from a quiz by Dr Eigi Noguchi)
Check all the boxes which apply to you -

- ☐ I wake up tired, even after eight hours of sleep
- ☐ I sleep restlessly, waking up frequently
- ☐ I suffer from chronic fatigue
- ☐ I have poor physical endurance
- ☐ I tend to be moody and irritable
- ☐ I am susceptible to colds and flu
- ☐ I suffer from allergies
- ☐ I frequently feel tense and on edge
- ☐ I am frequently constipated
- ☐ I have frequent pain in my shoulder and/or back
- ☐ I have weight problems
- ☐ I crave sweets, alcohol or soda

If you checked more than three boxes, your body might not be assimilating sufficient oxygen Please consult your physician You may wish to have your blood oxygen levels tested before and after you begin to use the Chi Machine

HERD DISPERSAL
WED., OCT. 6, 1999
at 1:30 PM

72 Head Purebred Canadians

We will be selling on consignment a herd of Purebred cattle consisting of 38 mature cows, 9 heifers due in the next 2 months, 8 heifers short bred, 5 heifers ready to breed this fall, 10 yearling heifers, 2 6 months old and 2 heifer calves. These cattle are out of some of the best bulls in Canada including 24 Prelude daughters, 9 Charles daughters, several Blackstars and other top bulls.

Cows are averaging 17,000M 3.85F and 3.63P with a very low somatic cell count. All this was done on a grain and grass hay feeding program and no silage. Cattle are bred for production and lots of show potential. This is a herd that can up your milk production and win a show too. Mark your calendar and plan to be in Belleville on October 6th.

Kutztown Fair Posts Beef Show Results

KUTZTOWN (Berks Co.) — Jonathan Bicksler, 14, of Tulpehocken Township, won grand champion honors at the Kutztown Fair with his 1,245-pound heavyweight champion, Wrangler, a purebred polled Hereford steer during the youth competition.

Bicksler, a second-year member of the Berks County 4-H Beef Club, is the son of Floyd and Linda Bicksler, Betnel. There were 40 head of steers exhibited by 4-H and FFA members from Berks and Lehigh counties.

The reserve champion steer was shown by Lynette Heffner of Robesonia, daughter of Martha Pool and Gary Heffner. Her steer, Nike, is a purebred Simmental and was chosen champion middleweight steer. Lynette was selected as champion fitter of the show as she brushed and groomed her steer during a 30-minute timed event. She also exhibited the supreme champion female of the beef breed show, Triple T Tate, a purebred Simmental heifer.

Emilie Miller was the reserve champion fitter of the show, and exhibited her polled Hereford steer, Tuff, to reserve middleweight champion. Miller also showed the champion and reserve polled Hereford heifers during the beef breed show. She is the daughter of Mike and Sheila Miller, Womelsdorf.

Champion and reserve champion showman honors went to two sisters: Kelly and Kristy Dietrich, respectively, daughters of Jim and Donna Dietrich. Kristy Dietrich showed the champion Simmental heifer and Kelly Dietrich showed the champion crossbred heifer.

Matt Manbeck of Womelsdorf exhibited the reserve heavyweight steer and the champion Angus heifer. He is the son of Herman and Connie Manbeck.

Josh Krill, Bernville, exhibited the champion lightweight steer and Lee Gauker, Fleetwood, exhibited the reserve champion lightweight steer. Krill also exhibited the reserve champion Limousin heifer.

Tyler Bolton, Kutztown, exhibited the reserve champion crossbred heifer. John Hartman, Bernville, exhibited the reserve champion Simmental heifer.

THESE QUALITY GRAIN CARTS MUST GO!

Choose the Grain Cart of your Size!
Sizes 450, 530, 640 Bushel Carts Ready to Haul

You're probably farming more acres today than your father did, and it's likely your operation will continue to grow. There are still only 24 hours in a day, though, which means you need to be as efficient as possible at harvest.

One big advantage you can have on your side is a patented Corner Auger™ Grain Cart from Unverferth Manufacturing Company, the grain transportation specialists. Unverferth grain carts are designed to let you unload your combine on-the-go and increase your harvest efficiency by up to 30 percent! The cart then lets you unload into a truck or wagon at up to 400 bushels per minute while your combine keeps working.

KINZE®

3000 Series Planters

"The Commitment To Excellence Continues"

Are you still drilling Roundup Ready Soybeans? Why, when you can precision plant each seed, produce better stands, get the same yield results, and cut seed costs by more than $10 an acre simply by planting 15" rows with a KINZE Interplant-equipped Planter. You see, with KINZE you effectively lower your population by 25%. And, on a thousand acres, that's a savings of more than $10,000! Find out more about the KINZE 3000 Planters and the KINZE Interplant System today.

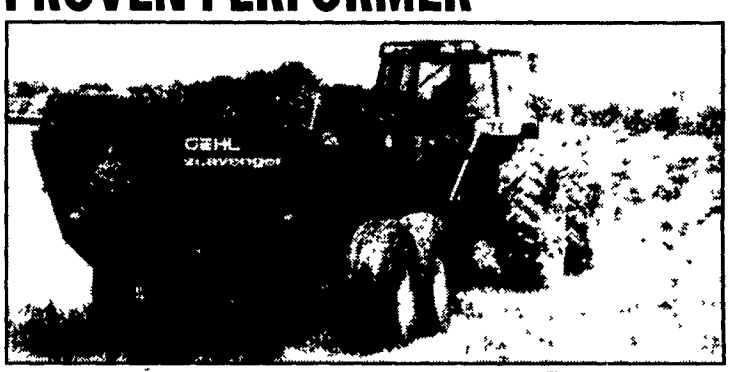
GEHL

PROVEN PERFORMER



Scavenger® Spreader

Gehl's Scavenger® Spreader delivers the performance you need year after year, with increased durability and outstanding application control. All thanks to the following features.

- Heavy-duty round core auger with segmented paddles to blend manure. Powered both up and down to ram through heavy loads and break up bridging.
- Special "V" tank design to handle solid, heavy bedded, semi-solid, self-leveling and liquid manure.
- Adjustable auger and expeller speeds spread more types of manure.
- Variflow™ discharge featuring square-tooth expeller paddles for smooth,e ven spreading at the rate you choose.
- Improved drive system with heavier final drive chains and enhanced idler system.

The #1 Name In Feedmaking

Gehl Mix-All® portable grinder-mixers have been leading the industry for over 35 years. Now available with Gehl's famous hammermill or a commercial-grade roller mill to produce the best possible feed for your livestock.

- Total hydraulic control - Self-contained hydraulic system allows infinite speeds to power the discharge conveyor, unloading auger and in-feed attachments
- Remote controls - Operate the unloading conveyor from the tractor seat or from the rear of the machine.
- Electronic scales - For precise ration weighing.
- Customize your machine - With a wide variety of options and attachments.

GET PRECISE APPLICATION CONTROL

New Holland side-delivery spreaders provide the most material control. Whether you're light top dressing, laying down a heavy layer, or anything in between, the Model 3106 puts the right amount of material right where you need it.

- Handles a wide variety of material – slurry gutter material, cow manure, even poultry litter
- 1375 gallon capacity with side rails in place.
- V-tank design delivers material to the auger fast
- Heavy-duty round-core auger produces less drag
- Double-acting hydraulic cylinder moves auger up and down to keep material flowing
- Hydraulic gate and specially designed expeller give precise application control
- Backed by a 10-year warranty against tank rust-through

See us for all your spreader needs.

Is your TMR Mixer limiting your ability to reduce feed costs?

The NDE Vertical Mixer cuts and blends whatever you may have available: round bale silage, dry hay bales of any size, cotton seed, distillers grain, cannery by-products, etc. A TRUE TMR not only gives your cows exactly what they need to reach top production, but also allows you to purchase feed stuffs economically, and mix them into a palatable, easily digestible, readily eaten feed.

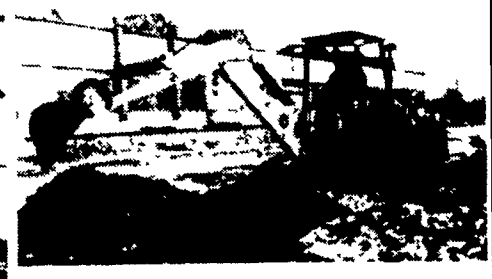
EarthForce - Dig Different.
Compact Backhoe Loaders
Ultimate Digging Machines

Built for the way you work.



These are the most powerful and mobile compact backhoe loaders available today. The compact body coupled with 4 wheel steering and 4 wheel gear box drive makes Earth Force both a rough terrain specialist and narrow-access champion.

Exceptional loading height and digging depth coupled with a quiet Kubota diesel and large fuel tank means exceptional operating performance.

IN STOCK
EF4 46 HP Kubota Diesel with 11 ft. Backhoe

EFI 25 HP Kohler Gas with 9 Ft. Backhoe

Dare To Be *Un*conventional

There's Nothing Conventional About Farming Anymore...

...why should you be satisfied with yesterday's conventional-tillage drill? The new 1300 drill is anything but conventional. The 1300 gives you the latest innovations previously available only on big drills - including hydraulic down pressure on the openers, a single-point spring adjustment, and a 3.24 bushel per foot seed box. While the competition is stuck in conventionally tilled fields, the 1300 is tough enough to handle minimum-till. You don't farm by somebody else's rule-book. Break with convention and contact your Great Plains dealer today to learn more about the 1300.

Dairy Cows & Doebler's Corn

Digest the Difference!

We know that it's important to grow as much quality feed as possible for your dairy operation. Doebler's can help select the best silage varieties to fit your nutritional needs.

Talk to your Doebler's Dealer about energy, tonnage, fiber, digestibility, etc. He can help you do more by selecting the characteristics you need most in your feeding program.

Ask about the new "S" Series, silage only hybrids!
Get acquainted, feel comfortable.

Your regional advantage.

BROILER INDUSTRY WANTS TO SELL MORE DARK MEAT TO THE DOMESTIC MARKET

JAMES W. DUNN
Professor of Agricultural Economics

The U.S. broiler industry is trying to sell more dark meat to the domestic market. Legs and thighs have sold at a lower price ever since the industry began to sell cut-up birds. But exports have removed a lot of this dark meat from the market in recent years.

Consumers in Russia, Asia, and Mexico buy the legs and thighs, while the white meat stays in the United States. The higher prices received for the white meat allows dark meat to be sold for less than the per pound cost of raising a whole bird.

However, the collapse of the Russian economy, and, to a lesser extent, the Asian economic troubles, have decreased broiler exports. This has dropped the U.S. wholesale price of leg quarters to half of what it was last year, hurting profitability on a whole-bird basis.

In 1997, Russia purchased 44 percent of U.S. broiler exports. In the first half of 1999, they purchased 9 percent. The Russian ruble has dropped so far that everything from abroad is dramatically more expensive to a Russian.

Further, the Russian government has partially embargoed poultry imports, citing product quality, but actually as part of a broader trade dispute. The combination has meant that this important customer is hardly buying. A lot of poultry meat has been sold recently to Estonia and Latvia, and presumably is entering Russia from there. However, these amounts are insignificant compared to Russia's purchases in 1996 and 1997.

Without some recovery in the Asian market, the export picture would be terrible. Fortunately Hong Kong is up 50 percent from last year and is now our leading market with about 30 percent of exports. Since Britain turned Hong Kong over to China, the exchange rate of Hong Kong dollar has been fixed. This is keeping American products at a comparable price for Hong Kong buyers to what it was before the Asian crisis. Japan's purchases are also up somewhat. Of course, the standard of living in Japan is much higher than in the rest of Asia For Japanese consumers, the strength of the yen does not affect poultry purchases much.

Mexican purchases are up from 5 to 6 percent of total broiler exports, although their broiler share does not compare with their turkey imports. Mexico buys over half of U.S. turkey exports.

Stocks of leg quarters are way up, with production running 6-7 percent ahead of last year's levels. The very low feed costs and strong broiler prices last year spurred a production increase. The abundance of leg quarters has also decreased the wholesale price of breast meat. Retail spreads have gotten wider, although more specials are occurring, which are not reflected in the statistics. These lower prices have made both white and dark meat more competitive compared to other meats.

The good news for the industry is that per capita poultry consumption continues to grow. Chicken consumption is 77.6 pounds per capita this year, compared to 72.6 pounds last year. This represents most of the growth in total meat consumption, which grew seven pounds per capita. Chicken consumption is pulling away from beef, which is static at 68 pounds per capita. Pork consumption is 53 pounds per capita. Despite the perception that meat consumption is falling because of health concerns and changes in tastes and preferences, per capita consumption of all meats has grown for several years in a row and red meat has been steady.

One of the efforts to increase the dark meat share of total meat consumption is focusing on ethnic foods such as fajitas and Chinese foods, much of which use meat in small proportions to the vegetables, but can easily accommodate dark meat. Deboned dark meat is now being sold in some markets and is ideal for foods that can make use of smaller pieces

With the summer barbecue season over, one should expect lots of specials this fall. With supply growing faster than demand, and exports weak, it is a buyer's market.

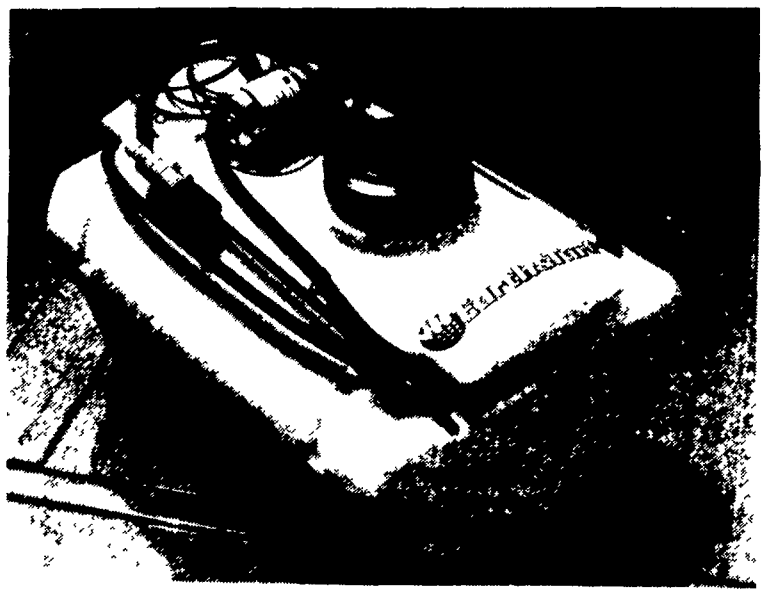
Earth & Turf Introduces Spot Sprayer



NEW HOLLAND (Lancaster County) — The Earth & Turf Spot Sprayer is designed to fit in the bed of utility and ground maintenance vehicles. The 25-gallon sprayer features a heavy-duty 12-volt, 7-amp Shurr Flo pump with on/off controls that easily connect to the transport vehicle. The noncorrosive hand-gun comes standard with a 12-foot hose. Its rubber feet prevent the unit from slipping on metal beds.

Skid-Steer Hydraulic Post Drivers Set Post Quickly, Easily

LITCHFIELD, Ill. — Worksaver introduces a new line of hydraulic post drivers specifically designed to work with today's most popular lines of skid steers.

The HSS Series of hydraulic post drivers can be paired with a wide range of skid steers (including Bobcat, Case, Deere, Gehl, and New Holland) to create an effective fence building system.

The HSS Series is compatible with the manufacturers' universal "quick attach" (featured on 1995 or later models) for fast, easy hook-up to the skid steers. Once attached, the drivers provide an immediate air-tight set to wood and steel posts, eliminating the time usually spent waiting for posts to set.

The HSS Series is available in three models: the HPD-16 HSS, HPD-20 HSS and HPD-24 HSS which provde 32,000 to 110,000 pounds of impact force. The different size models feature two large 3-inch by 6-inch hydraulic cylinders for fast, easy vertical alilgnment between each post. The operator can easily access a separate three-spool valve, which operates the fore-and-aft position and side-to-side position.

Other features include a unique oil return line system (patent pending) as well as adjustable stabilizer legs. The legs eliminate tractor tire bounce, reduce driver movement, increase stability while working at different working heights, and also make the unit self-standing for easier storage.

Worksaver's new line of HSS Series hydraulic post drivers can be paired with a wide range of skid steers to create an effective fence building system. The drivers feature a universal "quick attach" for fast, easy hookup and provide an immediate air-tight set to wood and steel posts.

Disease Management Program Available Through Sire Power

TUNKHANNOCK (Wyoming Co.) — Sire Power has announced the addition DuraCept Topical Hoof Disease Management Program to its products.

Sire Power representatives offer DuraCept along with Effercept™ Vet Teat Care products, Probios Microbial products, and Vink Management tools.

DuraCept Topical Treatment contains a proven formulation designed to help prevent and treat pathogen-based hoof diseases, including hairy heel wart and foot rot. DuraCept destroys disease-causing microorganisms instead of modifying their growth.

Activon Products offers this new hoof disease management program. Activon is a division of PR Pharmaceuticals, Inc. The company has been applying technology and innovation to products that reduce infections and costs associated with loss in dairy production as well as an effective bactericide for general consumer use. Activon Products is located in Fort Collins, Colo.

Planters Available in Nine New Models

WILLIAMSBURG, Iowa — Totally redesigned row units. The most accurate, proven mechanical seed metering systems n the field. Electronic seed monitoring up to 36 rows. Unique, innovative folding systems for large planters sizes.

Interplant® Systems (with patented "push units"). The ability to plant narrow rows without the congestion, buildup and balance problems caused by side-by-side row units.

A wide variety of planting options and attachments for conventional, minimum-till, and no-till applications.

These and several other features hallmark the introduction of the completely new lineup of 3000 Series Planters introduced by Kinze Manufacturing, Inc., Williamsburg, Iowa.

The Kinze 3000 Series is available in nine different models: 3000 pull type planters, 3100 rigid three-point mounted planters, 3120 vertical folding three-point mounted planters, 3140 stack-folding three-point mounted planters, 3200 Flex Econo-Fold® planters, 3400/3500/3600 Twin-Line® planters, and 3700 front folding planters.

Sizes range from simple four-row N setups in pull type or three-point mounted models to their largest planters, the giant, 60-foot wide, 24-row 30-inch or 36-row 20-inch front folding model.

Each is equipped with simple mechanical seed meters which allow operators to singulate corn, soybeans, milo/grain sorghum, acid-delinted cotton, and No. 3 and 4 oil sunflower.

All models (except the 3100 and 3120) come with a spring-loaded contact drive system to smooth the engage/disengage, minimize slippage, and eliminate the need for mechanical clutches. Drive chains are mounted above the toolbar to avoid damage from rocks, residue, or mud. All are designed with end-mounted transmissions and precision-cut plated sprockets – Kinze trademarks – for fast, easy adjustments, no tools are required when changing rates.

Kinze 3000 Double-Frame® 6 Row N with Interplant® package (11-row 15-inch) and liquid fertilizer package.

The 3000 pull-type planters (both single frame and double frame) are available in five different sizes, from 4-row N to 8-row N.

Three Kinze three-point mounted planter models — 3100 rigid, 3120 vertical folding and 3140 stack folding — are built primarily for flatlands and beds. The integral planters come equipped with adjustable height drive/gauge wheel modules to set wheel position and height.

The new 3200 Flex Econo-Fold® model — in sizes 8-row wide (36-inches and 38-inches) and 12 row N (30-inches) — is available with optional liquid fertilizer packages and a choice of notched single disc or double disc openers.

Three Kinze Twin-Line® planters — the 3400, 3500, and 3600 models — feature rotating in-line transport systems that allow you to reduce the transport width on large planters, as narrow as most tractor duals, even when equipped with narrow row Interplant® or liquid or dry fertilizer options.

The Model 3400 available in 12-row 20-inch or 22-inch configurations, is capable of planting "ultra-narrow" 10-inch and 11-inch rows with the Kinze Interplant® System. Or it accommodates an optional liquid fertilizer package featuring dual elliptical poly tanks (200 gallons each, 400 gallons total capacity).

The Kinze 3700 front folding planter — available in 16-row N (30-inch), 24-row (20-inch), 24-row N (30-inch), and 36-row 20-inch sizes – offers tremendous productivity with 40-foot and 60-foot planting widths, 20-inch and 30-inch row spacings, center flex and the ability to transport just 14-feet wide.

All 3000 series planters feature the newly redesigned Kinze "Evolution Series" row unit, with load-equalizing depth/gauge wheels, 20 percent heavier double disc opener blades, and a totally redesigned lower end with the strongest row unit shank available. New precision-molded, translucent seed hoppers offer 18% more seed capacity, better cleanout, and they enable you to more easily "read" seed levels.

In-Plant Protection Out-Performs Rootworm Insecticides

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. and DES MOINES, Iowa — A research collaboration between Dow AgroSciences LLC and Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc. (NYSE: PHB), has produced the most promising lead in developing corn hybrids with in-plant protection against the corn rootworm — a pest that costs U.S. farmers $1 billion annually.

Dow AgroSciences and Pioneer announced their field day tests are showing corn plants with corn rootworm protection far exceeding what chemical insecticides provide farmers currently. U.S. farmers could have seed products with the new trait by 2002 if regulatory reviews go as planned.

"This is great news for farmers and the environment," said Roger Kemble, Pioneer research director. "Field tests have confirmed we can protect corn from this very challenging pest in a way that is more effective, efficient, and provides a non-chemical alternative."

Several companies, including Dow AgroSciences and Pioneer, have discussed progress with other approaches to in-plant corn rootworm protection. But the Dow AgroSciences-Pioneer approach is the first to consistently show the highest level of corn rootworm resistance possible.

"We have been excited about the potential of these experimental products for some time," said Ron Meeusen, vice president for R&D Plant Genetics and Biotechnology at Dow AgroSciences. "The results of this summer's field tests confirmed we have reached a major milestone in our research collaboration."

Pioneer and Mycogen Corporation, a company acquired by Dow in 1998, formed insect resistant traits from the bacillus family. This includes traits such as corn rootworm resistance. Once effective genes are discovered, they are incorporated into each company's proprietary genetics — Pioneer into its hybrids and Dow AgroSciences into its Mycogen Seeds hybrids. In addition, Dow AgroSciences has the ability to license these genes to other seed companies.

Corn rootworms feed on the plant's root system reducing its yield and ability to withstand wind and a farmer's ability to harvest the fallen crop. To minimize the losses, U.S. farmers treated 14.4 million acres to a 1998 survey of corn growers by Doane Marketing Research, Inc.

Emergency Funds Available For Drought-Stricken Farms

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — Lancaster County farmers may request cost sharing assistance for drought emergency measures to provide water conservation and enhancements.

This includes water for grazing livestock, supplying emergency water for existing irrigation systems serving orchards and vineyards, and water for confined livestock and poultry operations.

Permanent practices such as buried pipeline, construction and deepening of wells, and irrigation recovery systems will be cost shared at 50 percent of the actual total cost. Temporary practices include temporary pipelines, spring development, earthen tanks, water troughs and seeps, which will be cost shared at 64 percent.

Producers must have or develop a conservation plan on their farms with the National Conservation Service (NRCS) before receiving payments.

Cost share is limited. The Farm Service Agency (FSA) will accept applications starting Oct. 1 through Nov. 30, 1999. FSA is located in the Farm and Home Center in Lancaster.

Angus Breeders Will Gather For Annual Meeting, Roll Of Victory Show

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Members of the American Angus Association and Angus enthusiasts from across the country will gather here at the 1999 North American International Livestock Exposition Nov. 14-16.

Angus breeders from 45 states and Canada are expected to attend the 116th annual meeting of the American Angus Association and the 1999 Super Roll of Victory (ROV) Angus Show.

The junior Angus heifer show will kick-off the three day event at 8 a.m., Sunday, Nov. 14, in the Kentucky Fair and Exposition Center Coliseum. Later that day, a report of the American Angus Association's Ultrasound Research Project will be presented, followed by an open meeting that will spotlight the candidates for the American Angus Association board of directors at 2 p.m.

Both meetings will be in the south wing of the conference center. The day's activities will conclude with the Angus reception from 6 p.m.-8 p.m. at the Executive West Hotel.

The female portion of the 1999 Super Roll of Victory (ROV) Angus Show will begin at 8 a.m., Monday, Nov. 15, in the coliseum. Dean Janssen, Bartonville, Ill., along with associate judge Jack Ward, Lagrange, Ind., will evaluate the Angus entries. The 2000 Miss American Angus will be crowned before the selection of the grand champion female

That afternoon, the annual meeting of the American Angus Association will be at 2 p.m. in the south wing of the conference center. A total of 336 elected delegates will conduct the business of the American Angus Association, as well as elect a president, vice president, treasurer, and five new members to its board of directors.

The day will conclude with a social hour at 6 p.m., followed by the annual Angus banquet at 7 p.m. at the Executive West Hotel. Baxter Black, the nationally-known cowboy humorist, will headline this year's banquet.

The Super ROV Angus show will conclude at 8 a.m., Tuesday, Nov. 16, with the bull show in the coliseum.

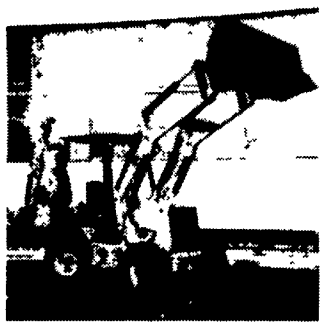
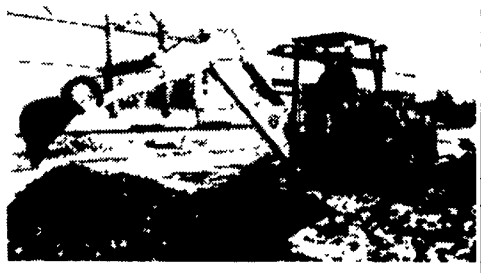
EarthForce - Dig Different.
Compact Backhoe Loaders
Ultimate Digging Machines

Built for the way you work.





These are the most powerful and mobile compact backhoe loaders available today. The compact body coupled with 4 wheel steering and 4 wheel gear box drive makes Earth Force both a rough terrain specialist and narrow-access champion.

Exceptional loading height and digging depth coupled with a quiet Kubota diesel and large fuel tank means exceptional operating performance.

IN STOCK
EF4 46 HP Kubota Diesel with 11 ft. Backhoe

"HI-MOISTURE SHELLED CORN"

You know the advantages of hi-moisture shelled corn versus dry corn for animal feeding. So now consider the MANY ADVANTAGES of POURED CONCRETE to store and protect your valuable grain.

Our 6" thick concrete walls reflect 38% of light beams, resulting in 780 times more heat-resisting ability than steel, and 25 times more insulating power than steel."

"Our 6" thick walls have a very low leak potential compared to pre-lab silos of any kind, and a very low maintenance requirement."

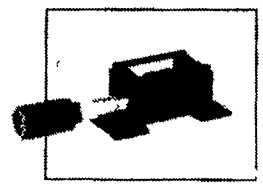
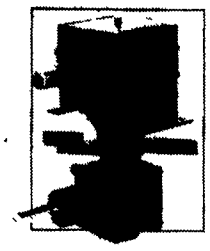
Bringing Efficiency Up By Bottoming Out

The harvesting of high moisture grains has brought increased efficiency to the farm field and harvesting losses are reduced Earlier harvesting can mean fewer weather problems and [illegible] eliminates those costly drying methods And the Series 8200H has brought increased efficiency to bottom unloading engine construction for lower maintenance superior engineering for increased operating efficiency and dependability and crop flexibility for increased usefulness and versatility.

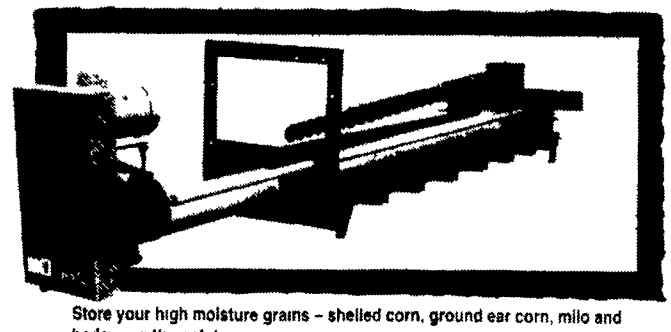
FEATURES



Extra heavy duty double gear box for years of trouble-free operation.



Improved worm gear assembly with stainless steel shaft for greater corrosion resistance.



Store your high moisture grains – shelled corn, ground ear corn, milo and barley – with confidence

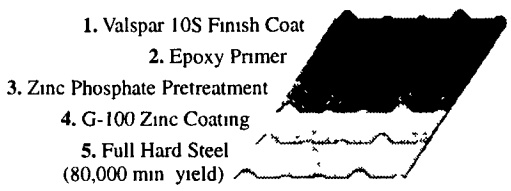
Everlast Roofing, Inc.

Metal Roofing & Siding

The Ultimate G-100 Process
"The Best"



NOTE! It is more important what is under the paint than what you see on top!

1 One of the best paints, superior acid rain, cracking resistance and color retention
2 Primer coat promotes outstanding top coat adhesion
3 Zinc phosphate pretreatment This is a very important process - if your current supplier cannot supply you with this or does not know, you should reconsider
4. G-100 Galvanized Most metal roofing has approx. 40% less galvanized under the paint. G-100 is more galvanized than most unpainted panels.
5. Full Hard: Anything less than full hard will bend easier, lower snow loads, etc.
6. Heat formed: Metal is painted before ribs are formed. Most paint cracks at bends, heat forming greatly reduces cracks. (check metal siding that is installed for 5-10 years).
7. Stronger design, superior strength, more metal per L.F.
8. Add Everything Together And Price Should Be $53.37 Per Square. $1.69 Per L.F.

OUR SPECIAL PRICE ONLY
$46.74 PER SQUARE
$1.48 PER LINEAL FT.

Everlast Roofing

Everlast II is galvanized heavier like old times, it is heat formed to prevent paint cracks; it is cut while hot to prevent early edge rust; Everlast paint is harder so it won't scratch as easy, won't bend or buckle as easy because of stronger design, laps are tighter and virtually invisible, nails/screws seal better because ribs fit tighter to fastener heads; zinc phosphate is used under paint which is much better than the chromate most competitors use. Crisp and attractive Sharp colors Excellent for houses and barns Double dipped galvanized is proven best for animals. Standing seam is ideal for houses Low prices, fast delivery

Cut stall clean-out time by 50% with a Millcreek Compact Spreader.

"The spreading efficiency sure outweighs the price. This is a wonderful machine. I couldn't be more pleased."
EARL SINKS - Brock, Texas

Say "Good-Bye" to back-breaking manure handling and cut stall clean-out time in half. Hook an affordable Millcreek Compact Spreader to your 10 hp garden tractor, take it right to the stall for easy loading. No more wheelbarrow.

Millcreek Spreaders last and last

Since spreaders are our specialty, we put more into each one For example our 20-year guaranteed floor will never rust or rot. Positive chain drive provides excellent spreading action And tough steel construction holds up to rugged farm use Seven sizes, for 1-horse barns to 50-horse stables PTO and ground drive models available.

CUSTOM MIX PROGRAM GIVES YOU OPTIONS IN FEEDING

Your Dairy Herd

Call us today for a feeding program built to fit your Dairy Herd and your Production Goals.

For maximum performance and income over feed cost, rations should be balanced to provide the optimum levels of degradable and undegradable protein, nonstructural and structural (fiber) carbohydrate as well as minerals and vitamins. This allows for maximum utilization of the rumen microbes and total ration efficiency. Because you needs may be different from your neighbor's, we adjust the following nutrients and ingredients to fit your needs and goals.

- Amino Acids
- Protein
- By-Pass Protein
- Energy
- Fiber
- Calcium
- Phosphorus
- Salt
- Vitamins & Trace Minerals
- Organic Trace Minerals
- Multi-Protein Sources
- Added Animal Fat
- Rumen Inert Fats
- Buffers

FOUR SIMPLE STEPS TO SUCCESS

Farm For Profit Step 1
SOIL MANAGEMENT

ACHIEVE
- Contains nutrients and feeders which aid in sustaining microorganisms in the soil

REMEDY
- Contains nutrients and micronutrients which aid in sustaining microorganisms in the soil

TANK MIXING STEP 2 PLANT NUTRITION & STEP 1

We have found be adding 12 8 oz of Remedy and a small amount of Achieve per acre to the recommended amount of Farm For Profit Step 2 True Solution Starter Fertilizer and applying directly on the seed or in the seed cradle we got outstanding results

Farm For Profit Step 2
PLANT NUTRITION

FARM FOR PROFIT TRUE SOLUTION STARTER FERTILIZER
- Near neutral pH
- 100% available
- Root zone placement
- Low salt index
- Foliar Feeding

Farm For Profit has established their own standard for quality Unlike many liquid fertilizers Farm For Profit True Solution Starter Fertilizer is a solution It is not just particles suspended in liquid Each drop contains the exact N-P-K ratio of the standard formulation Farm For Profit liquid fertilizer is consistent and stable and won't settle out It handles easily It can be stored indefinitely When it is applied, it flows evenly and cleanly Farm For Profit True Solution Starter Fertilizer meets our standard for quality

VEGETABLE OIL

1 Encapsulates the chemical
2 Helps generate uniform droplet size
3 Greatly reduces chemical evaporation
4 Reduces chemical drift
5 Increases the coverage because of its spreading and sticking ability
6 Reduces chemical wash off
7 Gives you better control of the chemicals

One of Farm For Profit's main concerns is the level of soil and water pollution found today. Our goal is to remove as much petroleum base material and farm chemical from the soil as possible Farm For Profit Step 3 Vegetable Oil gives us a means to reduce the level of both petroleum base materials and farm chemicals

Farm For Profit Step 4
TRAINED FIELD PERSONNEL

The Farm For Profit Authorized Distributor or Dealer in Your Area Will
- Explain the total Farm For Profit program to you
- Explain the best fertilizer program for your operation
- Suggest ways to improve the efficiency of your chemical program
- Explain to you what other farmers have been doing to cut their operating expenses while maintaining or increasing their production output

Farmers Helping Farmers
That's what Farm For Profit is all about!
